Sheriff charges minor in child porn case

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A 16-year-old Ingleside youth was charged by the Lake County Sheriff's Office with three counts of possession of child pornography on Aug. 20 in an Ingleside neighborhood.

Responding to a suspicious person complaint in the early morning hours, officers found the youth walking around the neighborhood with no apparent purpose. He had three photographs in his possession depicting what appeared to be minors without clothing.

Sgt. Gary Govekar said, "The pictures were of younger children. The subjects in the pictures were a lot younger."

Govekar said the juvenile admitted to investigators that he had several other similar pictures on his computer, in his bedroom of his parents' house. Investigators obtained a search warrant and seized the computer.

"We were expecting to find maybe another dozen pictures," Govekar said. "What we found was that this kid had downloaded about 4,000 pictures and had them on the computer's hard drive."

Reportedly the photographs did not depict any sexual acts, but the subjects appeared to be posed and unclothed. Govekar said the ages of the subjects all appeared to fall within the 4- to 11-year-old range.

Currently the youth is being held in the Robert Babcox Juvenile Justice Center pending court.

Govekar said it is anticipated that the court will appoint social workers to the case that will likely focus more on the juvenile's mental health than criminal acts.

"There will likely be a lot of family intervention and counseling," he said. "It will be up to the courts to decide, based on the reports of the social workers, how to handle things from there."

Police crack down on drug pusher

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Diligent work by the Antioch Police Department's school resource officer Rick Moritz has taken an alleged crack dealer off the streets in the vicinity of the Antioch Community High School (ACHS).

Jesus Larosa, 17, of 103 Cedar Ave., Lake Villa, was arrested on Sept. 23 at 3:30 p.m. for unlawful possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver within 1,000 feet of a school, possession of a stolen motor vehicle and possession of cannabis. According to Det. Sgt. Craig Somerville, this happened on property so near the school it could almost be considered part of the campus.

School security guards had asked Moritz to investigate a suspicious subject in the area.

Moritz found Larosa sitting in a pickup truck 30 feet from the northeast entrance of the high school. He determined the pickup truck to have been stolen from Chicago, and after calling for backup, ran a check of Larosa with information coming back that he was wanted on warrant for criminal trespass to land.

Larosa had nine individually wrapped packages of crack cocaine and a small amount of cannabis in his possession. The total weight of the cocaine was 1.55 grams.

Somerville said, "Crack is usually sold in $10 or $20 rocks. It's significant that he had these individually packaged, because that shows intent to deliver. We believe he was there trying to meet another kid from the area."

Somerville said Larosa had been a former student of ACHS, but had not been enrolled in over two years. "He had no business in the area of the school, especially in light of the drugs found in his possession," he said. "Officer Moritz did an outstanding job and acted in a safe and professional manner and made a solid arrest."

Larosa was remanded to the Lake County Jail on $20,000 bond pending an Oct. 3 court date. If convicted, he could serve 6-30 years in prison for the class X felony of possession with intent to deliver within 1,000 feet of school property.

Larosa

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Fagan said, "The Antioch Police Department has a zero tolerance policy when it comes to drugs, particularly near school property. The school resource officer is assigned to the school to assist in creating a safe and drug-free environment for the students and staff."

The school resource officer is travels between the Antioch Upper Grade School and ACHS every school day as part of a program that was established in the mid-90s.

3 die in 2-car crash

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A two-car, head-on collision proved deadly for the vehicles' three occupants along a stretch of Route 173 east of Linden Lane in unincorporated Antioch on Sept. 18 at about 7 p.m.

Floyd Davis, 76, of Spring Grove, was driving his 2000 Mercury Grand Marquis west along Route 173 near Linden Lane when his car reportedly headed into the east bound lane striking a 2003 Chevrolet Trail Blazer driven by Barbara Cottini, 56, of Glenview.

Lake County Sheriff's Department officials said Cottini was ejected from the Blazer and died when the rear axle of the vehicle landed on her. Sgt. Gary Govekar said, "She was ejected, landing on the south shoulder of the road. She died when the axle of the car came to rest on top of her."

Marde Davis, 74, Floyd's wife, was also pronounced dead on the scene.

"Marde was still seat-belted in the car," Govekar said. "She also died on the scene."

The Antioch Fire Department responded to the accident, working to remove the victims from the vehicles. Though the Flight for Life Medi-Vac helicopter was called, Floyd was transported by ground to NIMC.

Antioch Fire Chief Dennis Volling said, "The first arriving crews did a great job of assessing the scene and quickly went to work on removing the victims from the vehicles. The process was very labor-intensive."

The sheriff's department reported that Floyd died some time after being taken to the hospital.

Govekar said it is unknown if Davis had any medical conditions or whether drugs or alcohol contributed to the accident. "The coroner is doing an autopsy and there will be an inquest, at which time that information will be released," he said, adding that the inquest should come in about three weeks.

Govekar said Lt. John Jansky of the department's traffic unit had re-interviewed witnesses and determined that no other vehicles contributed to the tragedy.

"This is a very, very sad case," Govekar said. "Fortunately it wasn't worse, as it could have been if this had happened on a Friday night during the summer (vacation) peak."

Vandals hit Maravela's

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Three catering trucks located at Maravela's Catering, located on Route 59 in Fox Lake were vandalized early in the morning on Sept. 23. An employee called the Fox Lake Police Department upon arriving at work and finding the damaged vehicles.

Chief Ed Gerretsen said, "The windshields of three of the vans were smashed in, but nothing was taken from the vans."

The damage, estimated around $1,000, included some vandalism to antennas and outside mirrors. The building was not touched.

Gerretsen said police had no leads yet, but that some physical evidence was collected. "We hope this will help us find whoever did this. The damage was extensive."

Antioch Mayor Taso Maravelas owns the business and said the consequences of the vandalism could have gone beyond the mere cost of repair.

"It's a good thing we have spare trucks," Maravelas said. "We prepare about 500 meals for 'Meals on Wheels' to go to seniors. Some of these people have conditions like diabetes and it's very important that we can get their food to them."

Gerretsen said no clues were left as to the motivation behind the vandalism. "This type of behavior typically falls into the category of kids misbehaving or a possible disgruntled former employee or maybe a dissatisfied customer," he said. "We really don't have an idea why someone would do."

IRMA CEO Vite says Internet sales hurt local business

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

David Vite's message is clear: if a community wants a strong sales tax base, it must encourage more shopping in local stores, and lobby for Internet and catalog-generated sales taxes to be returned to communities where the money is spent.

"If you do nothing else (to increase local revenues), shop—in a store," he said. "When property taxes go up, remember that Internet sales are part of the problem."

Crain's Chicago Business cited Vite as "the best Illinois business lobbyist."

In his speech, Vite referred to several revenue-stealers that divert tax revenue from counties and municipalities. Internet and catalog sales were near the top of his list. Vite is among those who are lobbying to have all Internet sales taxed, with the taxes going to the buyer's locality.

At present, mail-order sales are only taxed where the company has a physical presence, so if a store has no outlet or distribution center in Illinois, sales tax is not collected in or for Illinois.

According to Vite, this is not the only way sales tax is lost to localities.

"If I buy a bottle of Arizona Tea, there is no sales tax," he said. "But if I buy a can of Coke, it is taxed." Vite explained that this is because coffee and tea products are exempted from taxation, although soft drinks are taxable.

Vite suggested that this inconsistency may be holding back as much as $600 million a year in revenue for local governments.

The lobbyist also lambasted drug company pricing practices that give breaks to foreign purchasers, creating a demand for American consumers to purchase prescription drugs from Canada, thus diluting American sales, and increasing the cost of providing pharmaceuticals through public aid programs.

While lauding Lake Villa's foray into downtown revitalization, Vite observed the loss of local small retailers is often a function of generational change.

"Woodstock (where Vite was a former executive director of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry) used to be a thriving retail destination in the village square until the 1980s," he said. "But the next generation did not want to run a retail business. They saw their parents and grandparents working 6-7 days a week, and they didn't want to do that. They wanted to be lawyers, doctors and dentists."

Vite congratulated the LLV Chamber community on its efforts, but urged it to take a global view when assessing the local economy.

Parks offers full fall schedule

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The parks department is teaming with activities for the fall with opportunities for children and adults.

"We're excited about all the variety we have to offer residents," said Laurie Stahl, parks department director. "We have really great programs for all ages."

One new program in the works, and one that's free of charge, is the Okinawa Kenjinkai Taiko Drums (Japanese Drums) class. It meets from 7-9 p.m. at the parks building and is for ages 5 and up.

Stahl said fundraisers would be held in the future to purchase drums and outfits for the performing drum group.

For tennis players who are thrilled about the onset fall and the weather destined to accompany it, indoor tennis is being offered through the parks department at the Tanglewood Tennis Club located near routes 45 and 50 in Bristol, Wis.

Sessions will be held on Wednesdays and Thursdays beginning on Oct. 15. Adult and junior groupings are offered with skill levels from advanced beginner through high intermediate.

Fees are dependent on class length.

A second session of bowling lessons for children begins on Oct. 16 at the Antioch Lanes. Sandy Kelley, USA Bowling Certified Coach, teaches the class.

Balls and shoes are supplied. The four-week session is $30 for residents and $40 for non-residents.

The second fall session of horseback riding lessons begins on Oct. 22 at Windance Acres in Lake Villa. As always, both English and western disciplines are taught.

Proper attire that includes long pants, shoes or boots with a heel and helmet is required. Helmets are available at the stable for those who do not own one.

An indoor arena is available for inclement weather.

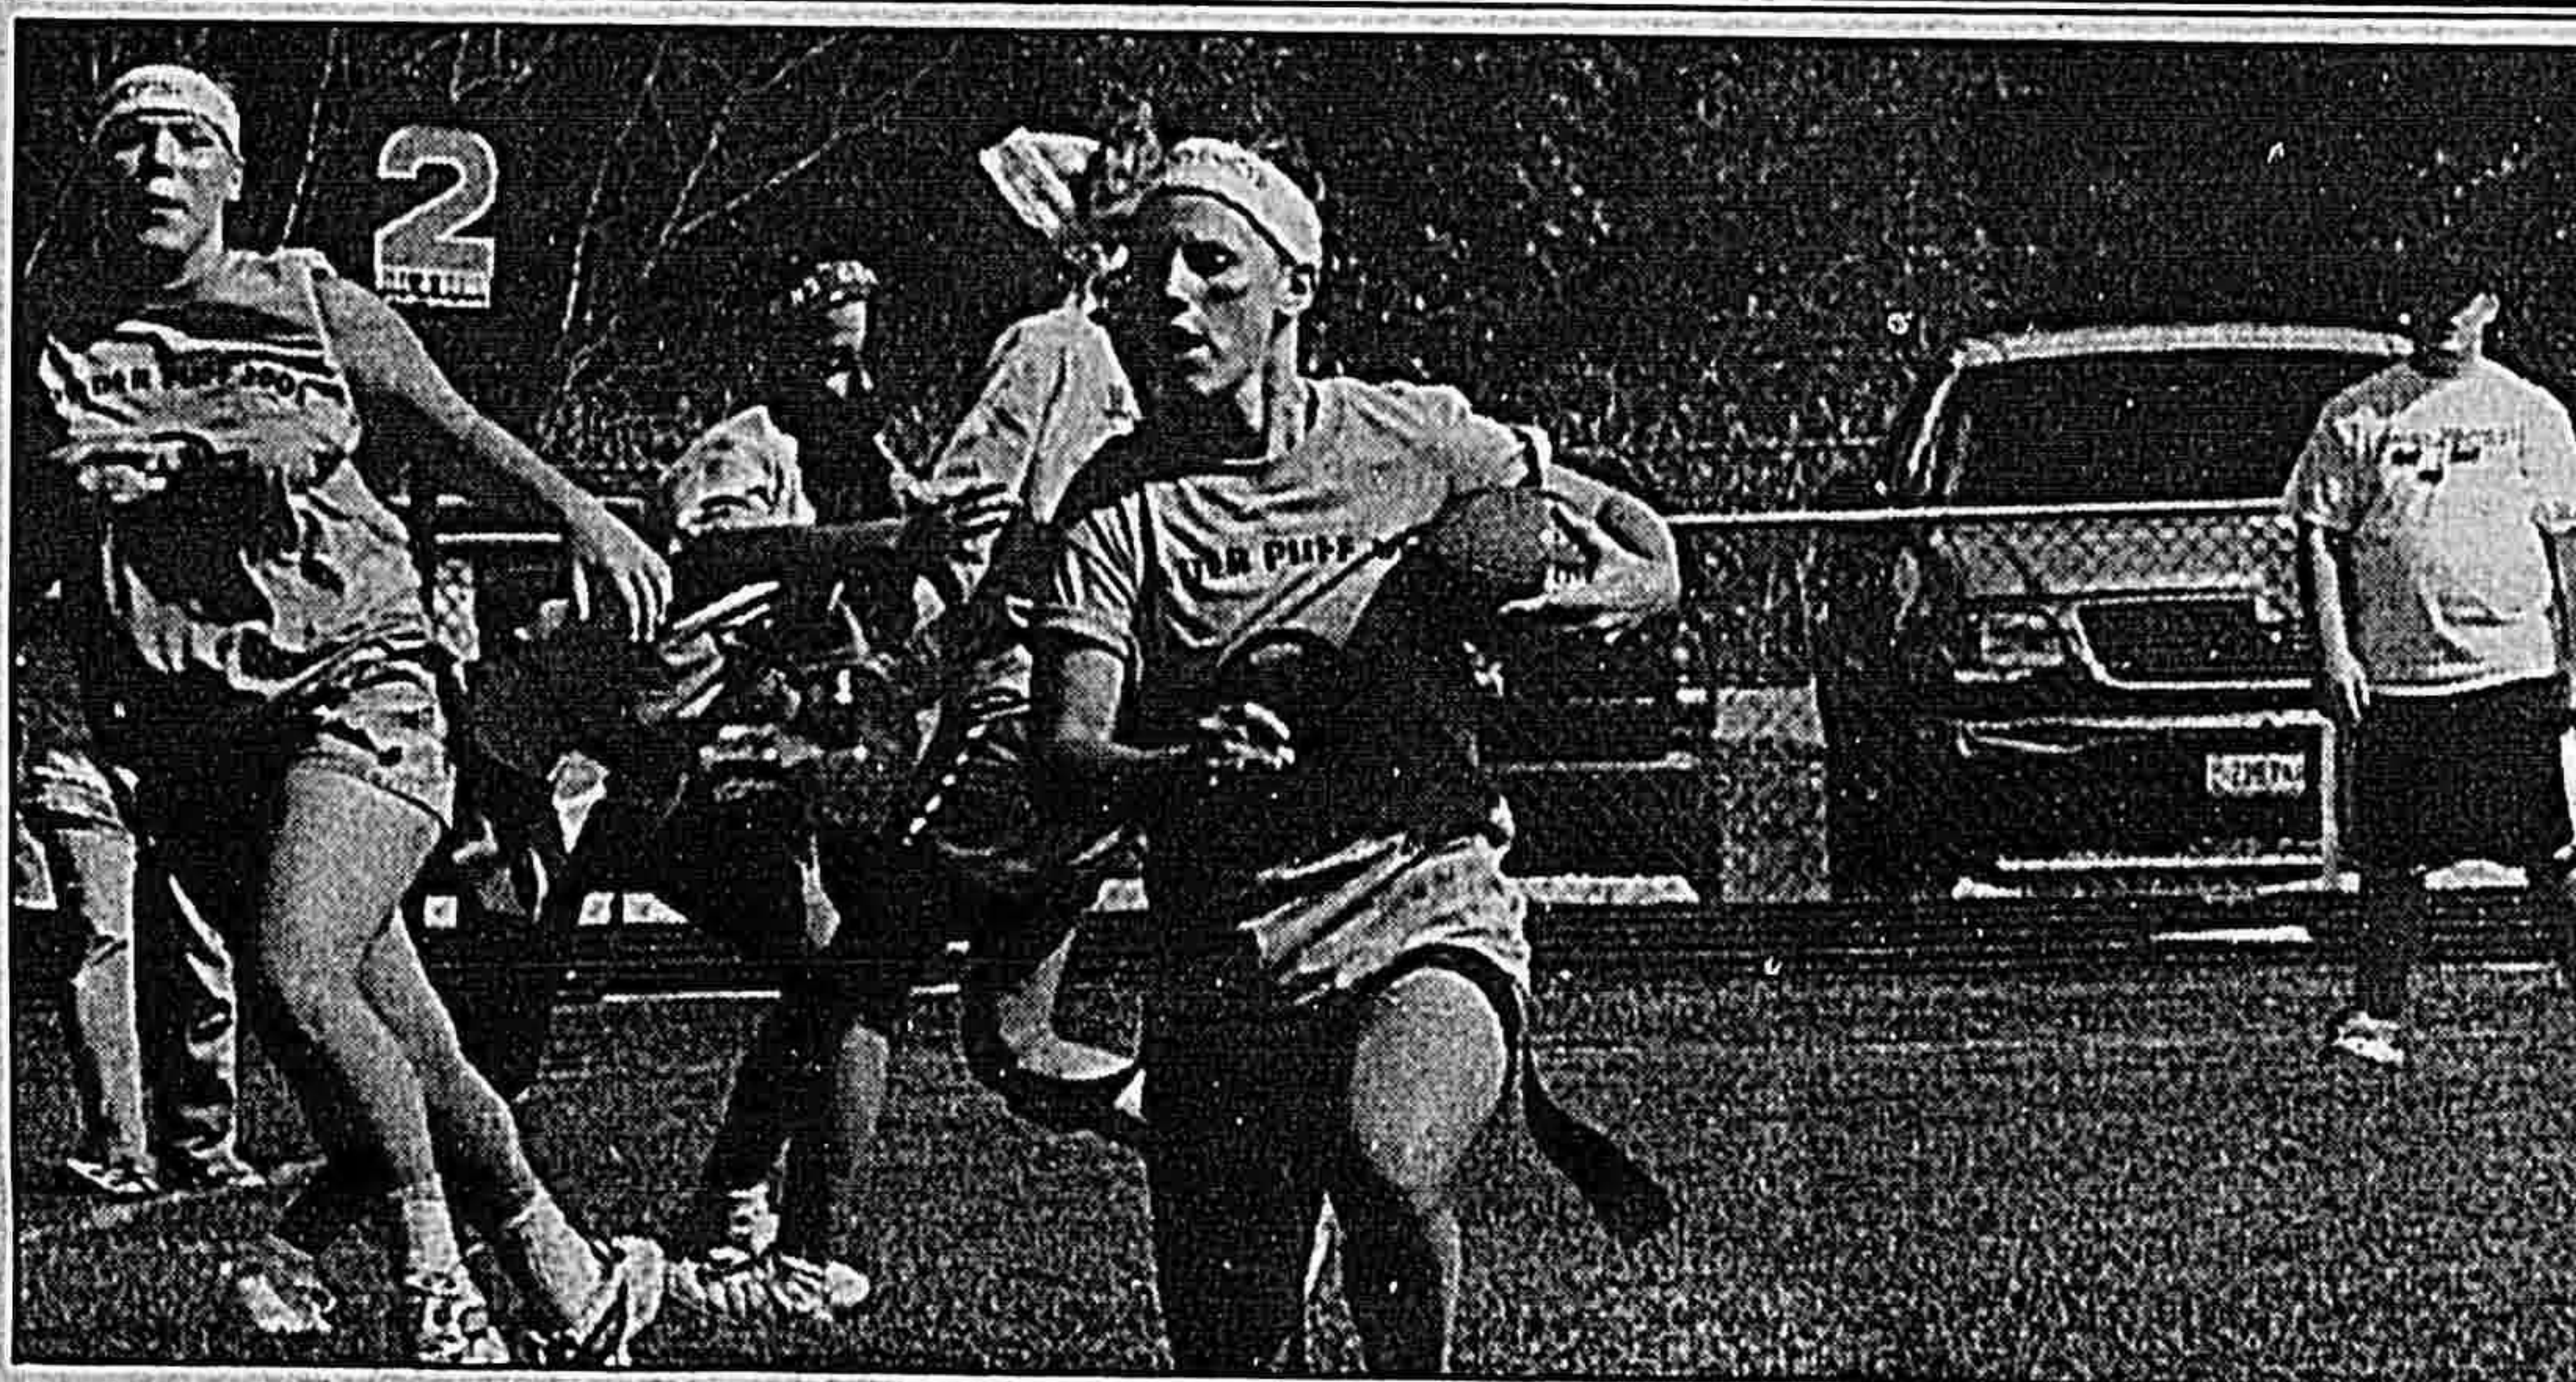

Four weeks of instruction, geared to individual skill level, is $120 for residents and $130 for non-residents.

The next basket weaving class, scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 16 and Oct. 23, will last three hours for each session. Instructors Lisa Herout and Ann Krumpos will show participants how to make an "ode to joy" basket.

The cost is $50 for residents and $55 for non-residents and includes all materials.

Ongoing programs through the parks department include Pilates, yoga and Shotokan karate.

For more information, call the parks department at 847-395-2160, or stop by the office located at 806 Holbek Drive, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Antioch gears up for Homecoming

Students from Antioch Community High School are ready to paint the town red (but only because it's one of the school colors) as it gears up for Homecoming.

Kicking off for Homecoming week, literally, were the seniors versus the juniors and the sophomores versus the freshman for the Sunday powder puff games. Sophomores won the game 33-0, while the seniors faced more of a challenge, winning 7-0.

Old traditions, such as the bonfire that accompanies the Friday-night pep rally, are back for the second year after some time without. The rally begins at 7 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 26 and will be done under the watchful eye of the Antioch Fire Department.

During that rally, the 2003 Homecoming King and Queen will be announced. Members of this year's court include Andrea Casapao, Heidi Gwinn, Jennifer Love, Amy Shouse, Amanda Wagener, Liz Whitehurst, Jim Beatty, Trevor Cushman, Chris Kiddoo, Andy Napier and Marshall Perry.

As in years past, the Homecoming Parade will shut down Main Street (Route 83) for the duration of the procession. The parade begins at 10 a.m.

The Antioch Sequoits will take on the Lake Forest Scouts at 1 p.m. The team looks forward having residents cheer it on to victory.

Antioch equals Halloween haven

Antioch is lucky because our town equals Halloween haven.

JJ Blinkers has a seemingly endless supply of costume supplies and decorations. The back half of the store is brimming with ghosts and goblins as well as frightening gifts and the spookiest of accessories.

Manager Jennifer Gallimore said the store has a better selection of costumes for rent than ever before. Apparently, a costume shop in Libertyville is deceased, and JJ Blinkers was able to buy out its stock.

"We really have lots of costumes available for rent this year," Gallimore said.

Even with that, she recommends trying costumes on in the store, prior to making rental arrangements.

"We're already starting to get booked up for Halloween," she said. "We don't want anyone to be disappointed and have it ruin the fun."

While Halloween is still a good month away, the village's Halloween Howl is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 17 and Saturday, Oct. 18. Downtown will be transformed into a web of haunted walkways and horrors as the village sponsors its ninth annual howl.

Events range from activities geared toward small children, to those especially planned older children. Family fun is always in the offering.

The whole town tends to get in on the act with local businesses and civic groups chipping in to help.

Billie Horton, director of special events for the village of Antioch, is always in need of an extra volunteer or two to ensure all goes as planned. Those interested in helping out should give her a call at 847-395-6342.

In the better-late-than-never category: Antioch resident, artist and do-gooder Dennis Downes was among those who donated some artwork for the Gala of the Arts to benefit Catholic Charities.

Proceeds from the gala went to the Emergency Assistance Department that provides emergency assistance and referral services to families and individuals in need of food, clothing, shelter, or rent or utility assistance due to poverty or crisis.

Seniors to submit college applications

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Seniors at Antioch Community High School (ACHS) are preparing to submit their college applications and are getting an opportunity to meet admissions representatives from various schools.

Lindsay McCann of Monmouth College in western Illinois will meet with interested students on Wednesday, Oct. 1 in the school's guidance office beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Assistant Principal Phyllis Fay said several schools visit the campus early in the fall semester to impart information and answer questions.

"We advise students to apply to at least three schools by Thanksgiving," Fay said.

"It's a good idea for them to get their bases covered by applying somewhere that is a sure bet, another school where the chances are good that they will be accepted and, of course, to their dream school."

Fay said that while the College of Lake County holds a big college night where representatives from many schools are available to answer questions, ACHS welcomes colleges individually.

"It's not quite as overwhelming as being presented with everything at once," she said.

Fay said that while these college visits are designed for students, the school would not object if a parent wanted to come and speak with the representative.

Monmouth is a private, four-year, nationally ranked liberal arts institution with a student population of about 1,100.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Phony outrage

In the Sept. 19-25 edition of the Antioch News, the article regarding the Sequoit Creek Watershed Management Plan contained comments from Scott Pierce, Dorothy Larson and others on the village board who said they were "upset" that Lake County officials held a meeting to discuss the plan during the day when some people might not have been able to attend. According to Scott Pierce, "It is crucial that we have residential input." So Antioch will have their own meeting. Dorothy Larson is quoted as saying, "This is our meeting to protect our residents and I think we should keep it separate."

Their outrage is ludicrous. Where was this kind of thinking when Pierce and Larson and others on the board were pulling all sorts of shenanigans to get variances and allowances made for Neumann Homes and Wal-Mart? The board's concern, then and now, is not for "the residents" or for wildlife or water and air quality. It appears that they are miffed because they weren't asked for their opinion. Given the track record of the village of Antioch, they are the last ones who should be asked about anything concerning watershed, conservation, wildlife or open space plans. They've demonstrated time after time a total disregard for these issues. According to the article, "the village wanted to ensure the plan isn't used as a political tool to restrict development." This is a good indication of what the village is most concerned about—that some other entity could hamper their goal to leave not so much as one square inch undeveloped.

The Sequoit Creek Watershed Management Plan is well researched and supported by findings of the Lake County Health Department, Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District, Lake County Wetland Inventory; also, the Illinois and U.S. Departments of Natural Resources, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and numerous other respected sources. Antioch's population is expected to triple by 2020 and projected land uses will directly impact runoff and water quality. The report states, "If such population increases occur, the resulting impacts on the natural resources and people in the watershed will be substantial." One of the most significant causes of lake impairment is listed as land development.

Similar information was given to the village board at both the Neumann Homes and Wal-Mart hearings. They didn't listen then, and they don't want to listen now. Instead they want to spend more money to "hire an independent consultant to review the study." Trouble is, when the village hires an "independent consultant" they are generally not very independent but good at parroting the board's views.

Instead of getting their collective noses out of joint, the village board should take the advice of the experts, with all their resources and knowledge, and work together to safeguard the natural resources that haven't already been destroyed by their misguided attitude that they're right and the rest of the world is wrong.

POLICE BEAT

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Suspended driver's license

Gino P. Alessi, 17, of 26211 Spring Grove Road, Antioch, was arrested for driving while suspended on Sept. 15 at 9:02 p.m. at the intersection of Orchard and Holbek.

He was stopped because there were no visible registration plates on the vehicle. Alessi told police he had just purchased the vehicle.

The officer looked at the title and noted the date of purchase was listed as Sept. 18. A check of Alessi's identifiers came back with information that his driver's license was suspended.

He was arrested and issued citations for driving while suspended. Alessi was released on personal recognizance pending his Oct. 8 court date.

LAKE VILLA

Burglary

Lake Villa Police responded to an audible alarm at 400 E. Grand Ave. at 11:35 p.m. on Sept. 9 at Sunshine Cleaners. Police found the rear steel door was damaged near the door handle. A cash tray was taken from a register. It was estimated to have contained $120-140. A man seen nearby was questioned by police, who are still investigating the crime.

Shortly before the alarm went off, at 10:01 p.m., Lake Villa Police received a 911 call from the Amoco gas station on Deep Lake Road. The caller reported a man with a shotgun in the vicinity of Painted Lakes and Deep Lake Road. Police conducted a search, but found no one. It is suspected the call was a ruse to distract police from the strip mall on Route 83 near Grand Avenue while the burglary was taking place.

Suspicious person at school

Lake Villa Police were called to the grounds of Pleviak Elementary School on Sept. 18 at 9:42 a.m., when the school principal reported a 14-year-old male wearing a vampire costume had been seen on the premises. The principal advised police that the same juvenile was seen 2-3 days earlier, wearing a "Scream" costume. Police interviewed the youth and his mother, and learned he had missed his ride to school, and his mother had no car. He and his mother were warned he was to stay away from the elementary school while children were present.

LINDENHURST

Disorderly conduct

Michael E.W. Karstens, 22, of 210 Dittmer Lane, Lindenhurst, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Sept. 21, at 4:17 p.m., near the Burger King at 1440 E. Grand Ave. in Lindenhurst. Police responded to a complaint that a man had entered the ladies' room at the restaurant and had peered over a stall wall at a 29-year-old woman using the toilet. In a written statement to police, the woman said she heard someone enter the room. She heard a man say, "Excuse me," and looked up to find the man watching her. He then allegedly remarked, "Nice a..."

The woman reported the occurrence to the store manager, who called police. The suspect was found in the deserted Eagle parking lot at 1400 E. Grand Ave., heading north towards Mallard Ridge Apartments, where he lives. He told police he had not been at the Burger King, but had come to the doors of the Eagle, and then discovered it is closed. (The market has been closed since Sept. 15.) Later, he said he had gone into the Burger King men's restroom, but not the women's.

He was charged with disorderly conduct, and told not to come onto the Burger King premises again. He was released on a $75 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-405, on Oct. 10, at 9 a.m. over to the Fox Lake Police Department to be held in custody pending bond court.

Change to Cleanup Boosts Reuse Plan for the HOD Landfill Superfund Site Antioch, Illinois

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency announces a change to the 1990 cleanup plan (Record of Decision) for the HOD Landfill site. This change is explained in a document known as an Explanation of Significant Differences, which was approved August 28, 2003. The change pertains to fencing, signs and gates.

In August 2003, EPA approved an Exposure Pathway Analysis and Risk Assessment for the HOD Landfill Final End Use Plan. This report explains that the site can be used for recreational purposes if the cleanup plan and ground-water use restrictions are maintained. The following recreational uses are identified in the final end use plan:

- Recreational fields
- Playgrounds
- Off-leash dog area
- Non-motorized trails
- Nature walking paths
- Archery range
- Model airplane flying
- Golf driving range
- Picnic area (tables only)
- Area for special events (concerts or festivals)

The main change to the original cleanup plan is removing the fence around the 120-acre site. Fencing around two maintenance buildings and leachate (contaminated liquid) collection zones are still required. Gates and signs will identify both areas. Gas and leachate collection vaults, which are located on the landfill outside of the fenced operation and maintenance area, will have locks installed on the vault covers.

By changing the original cleanup plan regarding fencing, gates and signs, the HOD Landfill site can be used by the public and still protect people and the environment.

Lakes Area Band plans fall concert

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

A date has been set. The Lakes Area Community Band will have its fall concert on Saturday, Oct. 11 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Antioch Community High School (ACHS).

Some of the pieces to be performed that evening include "Orpheus," a Cole Porter medley, a march called "Officer of the Day" by R.B. Hall and "Caravan" by Duke Ellington.

"Our band is continually growing both in numbers and musically," said the band's director Steve Porch. "We are very fortunate to have so many talented musicians play in our group just for the love of playing music, and it shows in every concert we perform."

Sponsored by the Festival Arts of Antioch, admission is always free. Seats are on a first-come-first-served basis, so for the best seating, come early.

Debbie Davis, publicity director, said that refreshments would be served after the performance.

"This is really a fun band," Davis said. "There is a diversity of ages, and everybody is very nice and down to earth. It's a night of entertainment just to come to rehearsal."

The Lakes Area Community Band is a not-for-profit group started more than a decade ago and made up of 40 musicians from Lake, McHenry and Kenosha counties. Rehearsals are held Monday evenings in the ACHS band room at 7 p.m. For more information about joining, call 847-395-0272.

LOCAL DIGEST

NICC open house

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC) will hold its second annual open house on Sept. 27 from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Educational programs will be held throughout the day. There will be presentations in archery, bee keeping and plant identification. Other topics of interest will be birds of prey and wildlife in need.

NICC is located on the east side of Route 83 south of Route 173.

PM&L Scrooge auditions

PM&L Theatre will be holding auditions for its second production of the year, a musical version of "Scrooge," on Sunday, Sept. 28 from 6-10 p.m. and on Monday, Sept. 29 from 7-10 p.m. at the theater located at 877 Main St., Antioch.

This musical version of "Scrooge" is by Leslie Bricusse and directed by Linda Hachmeister of Antioch. Hachmeister needs a large cast of all ages, as young as 7 years old and up to seniors. Total cast requirements top 30.

Those interested in auditioning should dress comfortably and be prepared to sing a vocal selection of choice. Children should come prepared to sing a Christmas carol. Additionally, there will be a few dance auditions.

The production will run on weekends beginning with Nov. 21 and run through Dec. 5. For more information, call 847-838-4022.

Drivers safety program

A class designed specifically for drivers over the age of 50 years old will be held on Sept. 29-30. The course will be held at the First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBE), located at 485 Lake St., Antioch.

The curriculum covers defensive driving, safety tips and information about giving a vehicle a small inspection before driving off. It also covers any changes there may have been to rules and regulations.

The two-day course runs from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. on both Monday and Tuesday. There is a $10 fee that covers the cost of the written materials distributed and the trained instructor who teaches the course. Seniors are not required to be AARP members to participate.

Seniors who complete the course are eligible for 10 percent discounts on auto insurance by certain carriers. Those interested should call FNBE at 847-838-2265 to secure a spot in the class. Registration is limited to 35 and enrollment is on a first-come first-served basis.

Bank food drive

Non-perishable food items collected throughout the month of September by the State Bank of The Lakes will be divided among eight local food pantries.

Employees and customers as well as the public are welcome to make donations at one of the four bank branches. Displays will be set up at each facility to accept donations.

The concentration of this drive is on non-perishable food items. Bank representatives said that while items like soap and shampoo are also needed and appreciated by pantries, the focus of this effort is on food.

Additionally, the bank is able to accept cash donations on behalf of the pantries.

The food drive runs through the end of September, and the food will be distributed directly afterwards.

Pork chop dinner

It's no tumbleweed that the annual pork chop barbecue and auction to be held by the Antioch Rotary Club on Oct. 4 will kick up some dust with the theme of "Wild Western Rotary Round-Up." It also doesn't take a Texas Ranger to know that supporting an event that gives back to the community is worthwhile.

This year's hoedown will take place at Father Hanley hall in St. Peter School with dinner served from 5-7 p.m. and the auction beginning at 7 p.m. and running until all the goodies are spoken for.

The proceeds of this fundraiser typically go to the Antioch Rotary Scholarship Fund. Over $30,000 annually is doled out to students residing in Community High School District 117.

For more information, call Bob Schneider at 847-395-4444.

St. Peter School is located on Lake Street just north of the intersection of routes 59 and 173.

Several local teams making a mark

Well, we're almost to the halfway point of the high school football season, and several teams have started to make a name for themselves.

Carmel, the pre-season No. 1 ranked team in Class 6A has certainly lived up to the billing so far, especially after two straight near-landslide victories.

The Corsairs have it all; they can pass when necessary, they can run, they can hit and they can kick.

And senior Jack Simmons, who has committed to the University of Minnesota, has to be the biggest, most polished player I've seen in four years covering Lake County football. Not even NIU star, and former North Chicago standout Michael "The Burner" Turner was this ready to play college ball.

Anything less than a state title will be a disappointment for this team.

And while Libertyville may not be crushing the opposition like Carmel, the team has the record to match, and they have looked equally as impressive at times.

The Cats are led by the backfield tandem of Santino Panico and Kevin Fontana, both of whom are capable of breaking a 60-yard run at any time, as evidenced by Panico's 10 TDs through four games.

On a side note, I'd like to congratulate Panico on being nominated for the 2004 U.S. Army All-American Bowl.

The game will be played in the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas on Jan. 3, 2004 and features the top 78 high school players in the country.

Several other teams have started to turn some heads, including 3-1 teams Antioch, Grayslake, Vernon Hills and Johnsburg. Barring a collapse down the stretch, these teams should make the playoffs.

At 2-2, Warren, Stevenson, Mundelein and Grant, all four of which made the playoffs in 2002, each have a chance to return to the post-season if they can get hot.

That makes 12 teams that have a good shot to make the post-season. Good luck! The Apocalypse has been averted

I said two weeks ago that if the Cubs and White Sox made it to the World Series, that it would be the same day the Earth explodes.

Well, I'd like to thank the Sox for their collapse over these last 10 days. Thanks for saving the world.

"Bronco Nagurski didn't get no bye week"

Those words from Moe Szyslak made me think of the Chicago Bears, presented by Bank One. This past weekend was the best the team looked all season. If only the team could get 17 byes per season.

Sequoits dominate Round Lake

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Antioch High's football team knows that it is a whole different story when North Suburban Conference Lake Division play starts.

The Sequoits own a 3-1 record and a three-game winning streak, following a 37-10 domination of Round Lake. The Sequoits scored 60 and 37 points in two NSC crossover wins over Wauconda and the Panthers. Lake Forest visits Antioch Sept. 27 for a 1 p.m. clash.

"We know that Lake Forest will be a lot tougher," Antioch coach Del Pechauer said. "They have some big lineman going 275 and 300 pounds and have big linebackers. They're also a new program."

The Sequoits' ground game was once again effective against the Panthers. That plus four Round Lake fumbles, two turned into short fields for the ground game to operate in.

Senior Tom Rompalla had TD runs of 4 and 5 yards on a 97-yard night. Nick Nathan scored from 3 yards out. QB Randy Frolich completed a 22-yard TD pass to Nate Hughes (24 yards rushing). Junior Joe Dziki added a 27-yard field goal and senior Mike Miller had 5-yard run to finish off the scoring.

"They had eight or nine guys up front, but we finally broke one for a long run in the second quarter," said Pechauer.

"Rompalla ran well. He finished strong last year after he was injured," Pechauer said.

The passing game looked strong for Antioch, as Frolich was 3-for-5 for 38 yards. Hughes caught his TD pass from the wing position.

"We were worried about (RL QB Scott) Yingling and trying to contain him running out of the option. He's a tough kid," Pechauer said.

Marshall Perry had an interception and added four PATs for Antioch.

Antioch had all but 50 of its 200 yards on the ground.

Junior Anthony Beaudion snared Round Lake's first TD from formation of the season. He caught a 15-yard pass from Yingling in the fourth quarter. Ted Silvetti added a 30-yard field goal for Round Lake's other points.

"We shot ourselves in the foot with the four turnovers. We gave them the ball inside our 40," said Round Lake coach Kevin Dempsey.

Dempsey did see some positives.

"We're starting to move the ball. That is good to see," Dempsey said.

The Panthers, 1-3, 0-2 in crossovers, travel to Wauconda (0-4) for the WHS homecoming clash at 1 p.m. Sept. 27. WHS has lost 20 straight, but the Panthers will just be "trying to take care of business," Dempsey said.

Wauconda is led by QB Andrew Baker and a pass offense that can get going at times. Brandon Francis has been Baker's favorite target.

Lindenhurst Tornadoes open season on right foot

The Lindenhurst Tornadoes boy's U-13 travel soccer team opened its fall season with three wins and now holds sole possession of first place in its Young Sportsmen's Soccer League division.

In the opener, the Tornadoes defeated Libertyville 3-1. Andy Donovan's goals helped the Tornadoes to a 2-0 halftime lead. Libertyville cut the deficit to 2-1 early in the second half, but superb defense and solid goalkeeping by Joshua Larson denied the opponent further scoring opportunities.

Tornadoes' center-midfielder Kyle Sytsma put the game on ice with a top-shelf blast three minutes from time. Assists on the three goals went out to Jarrett Jespersen, Eric Holst, Ryan Lulofs, Sytsma and Breck Hughes.

The second week had Lindenhurst facing the U-13 Northstars of Winthrop Harbor. Despite controlling much of the play and allowing only three shots, the Tornadoes were stunned to find themselves down 3-0 in the first half.

Hard work and two Northstars' fouls in the penalty area helped Lindenhurst cut the deficit to 3-2 early in the second half. Still trailing 4-3 late in the game, Lindenhurst's Mathew Braden collected the ball off a corner kick and slotted home the tying goal inside the near post.

With the game in injury time, Eric Holst slipped a through-ball behind the Northstars' defense to a streaking Andy Donovan.

He out-muscled his defender, brought the ball under control, and calmly placed it beneath the onrushing goalkeeper's gloved hand. The ball struck the inside of the far post and danced along the goal line for a tense moment before crossing over for the game winner. Ten seconds later the referee signaled the end of the game.

Kyle Sytsma led the scoring with two goals and two assists.

In week three, Lindenhurst defeated the Wheeling Wildcats 6-2 behind an amazing five-goal performance by Donovan. Sytsma also scored on a 28-yard free kick that whistled inches underneath the crossbar. Assists on the day were dished out by Braden, Hughes, Lulofs and Sytsma.

"It's been a great start to the season," Coach Neal Lulofs said. "The boys are working hard on both sides of the ball, moving it around in combinations, and playing some attractive soccer."

It was a case of David versus Goliath, when the Lindenhurst U-9 Fire played a physically larger team from Schaumburg. The Fire used its speed and agility to negate a considerable size difference in earning a 1-1 tie.

The Fire's mid-fielders and defenders kept the ball out of their defensive zone for most of the first half and the Fire's attackers threatened to score several times only to be stopped by some fine goalkeeping.

As the end of the first half loomed the Fire's Brandon Brumm crossed a perfect pass in front of the Schaumburg goal to a waiting Alex Langbein, Langbein's shot beat a diving Schaumburg goalie to make the score 1-0.

The second half found both teams having opportunities to score, but some keen defensive play and more excellent goaltending kept both teams close. With neither team able to convert any scoring chances, the game went into the last five minutes with the Fire still leading 1-0.

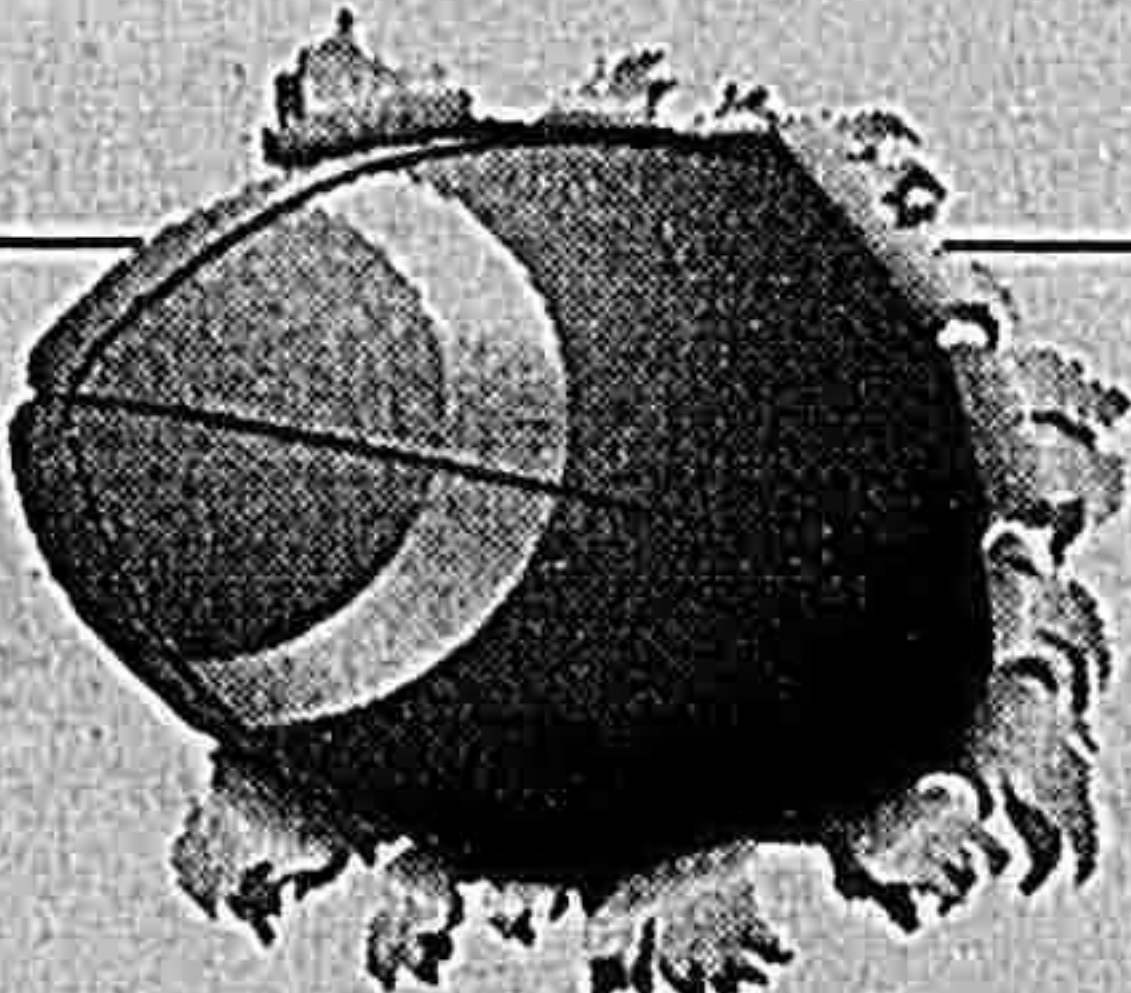

The next several minutes found the Fire again threatening, but still unable to find the back of the net. Then with about a minute and a half left, the Fire's midfielders and defenders found themselves out of position.

After a throw-in, the Schaumburg attack split through the Fire's defense and scored to tie the game at 1-1. The Fire had one last scor-

Saturday Bantams win 2nd straight

The Vikings Saturday Bantam squad improved to 2-2 on the season with a 14-0 win over Huntley last weekend.

Antioch scored in its opening drive to go ahead 6-0 on an impressive touchdown run from Jason Adlam.

The Vikings scored again in the second quarter on a run from Ben Wayne and extra point by Zach Keller.

Antioch's defense stood firm in the second half to cement a second shutout victory in as many weeks. The Vikings beat the previously undefeated Grayslake Colts 6-0 a week earlier.

Sunday Lightweights shutout Barrington 34-0

Antioch's Big Ten Lightweight squad moved into second place in the Elite division of the Tri-County Youth Football league with a solid win over the Barrington Broncos.

The Vikings offense scored early in the first quarter on a touchdown run by Ryan Williams.

Viking speedster Dan Larsen came to play, scoring three separate touchdowns at running back and putting the game out of reach for the Broncos.

Antioch's Mickey Zolen drove in for one more touchdown in the fourth quarter to seal the victory. The Viking defense was just as impressive stopping Barrington for minimal yardage throughout the entire game.

Viking Corner Jason "Chevy" Schevikhoven stepped up with two interceptions on the day. This was Antioch's second straight win. They beat the Lake Zurich Flames 18-6 the previous week.

Lightweight Gold squad remains undefeated

The Antioch Lightweight Gold team ran their record to 4-0 with a hard fought 6-0 win over Warren White in Antioch on Saturday.

The Vikings dominated the first quarter, going on a 65-yard, eight-and-a-half minute drive that resulted in a 6-yard touchdown run by tailback Richard Gibson.

The Vikings threatened one other time in the second quarter, after QB Chris Utes hit Antuan Hall on a forty yard pass play that resulted in a first down on a fourth and 25 play.

The Vikings drove down to the Warren 20-yard line, but that drive ended with a lost fumble. The Viking defense again stood out, posting their fourth shutout in a row, while allowing a tough Warren team only two first downs.

The Vikings visit Warren Blue next Saturday.

ing opportunity as time ran out, but the Schaumburg goalie again came up with the save.

This weekend the Fire will take its 2-0-2 record to Johnsburg, to meet the White Lightning for the second time this season.

U-12 LASC Rockets 2, Strikers FV '92 White 1

The Rockets controlled the possession for a majority of the game. The defense (Sarah Bartlett, Sarah Steffen, Megan Palmer and Jessica David) had another solid performance allowing the opposition limited scoring opportunities.

The first goal was set up by a crossing ball that flashed in front of the goal across to the left side where Madeline Allen put it in the net.

The second goal was set up by the controlled midfield passing to Allen, who chipped a long ball to the back of the net for her second goal of the match. The Strikers lone goal was the result of a deflection off one of the attacking players.

U-10 LASC Stars 2, Northstars 1

The Stars controlled the first half and scored on a brilliant crossing ball from Brittany Kelly to Tatiana Katres who was crashing the goal from her left midfield position and found the back of the net.

The LASC Stars' go-ahead goal came near the end of the 2nd half with solid passing from Candy Fogliatti, Jenna Baker and Leah Baker and was finished by Lisa Styczen.

Environmental disaster hits marsh

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

From the standpoint of an interested reporter there seems to be no one to blame for the environmental disaster happening in the 34-acre Fairfield Marsh in Round Lake Heights.

But something has definitely gone horribly wrong.

The marsh, undeniably popular with the birds, fish, frogs, turtles, butterflies, sand hill cranes, great blue herons and other wild species, is equally appealing to the people who have lived next to it for so many years.

"It was such a tremendous beautiful sight," said Jo Garrett, an eighteen year-long neighbor to the marsh located near the corner of Fairfield and Rollins Road.

"It is with sadness and astonishment that I have watched it drain. I can't tell you how many birds and aquatic species live in there."

Now Garrett, like so many other nature lovers, can only hope and pray that the wetland will restore itself to its original beauty.

When the marsh started draining and why are debatable issues. Garrett says it was in late July. Lake County Stormwater Management Commission (SMC) Chief Engineer Michael Warner believes the marsh began to drain on the weekend of August 9.

"It was probably caused by water pressure building up and forcing the drain tile open," said Warner.

Although there has been speculation by some residents that the drain was deliberately opened, that has not been proven.

Since the marsh started draining it has lost an estimated 20 million or more gallons of water.

On August 12, Round Lake Heights Mayor Terry Lumpkins and his village engineer Pat Bleck first notified SMC of the disaster.

On August 15, SMC attempted to block the flow in the drain tile but was unsuccessful.

Three days later, on August 18, SMC met with the Army Corp of Engineers, since the marsh is an aided wetland, and decided to get a permit to fix the damaged tile.

SMC spent $4,000 hiring Hey and Associates to plug up the drain and then hosted an informational meeting at the Lake Villa Township Hall for the residents living nearby the marsh.

Emotions at the meeting ran high according to Garrett.

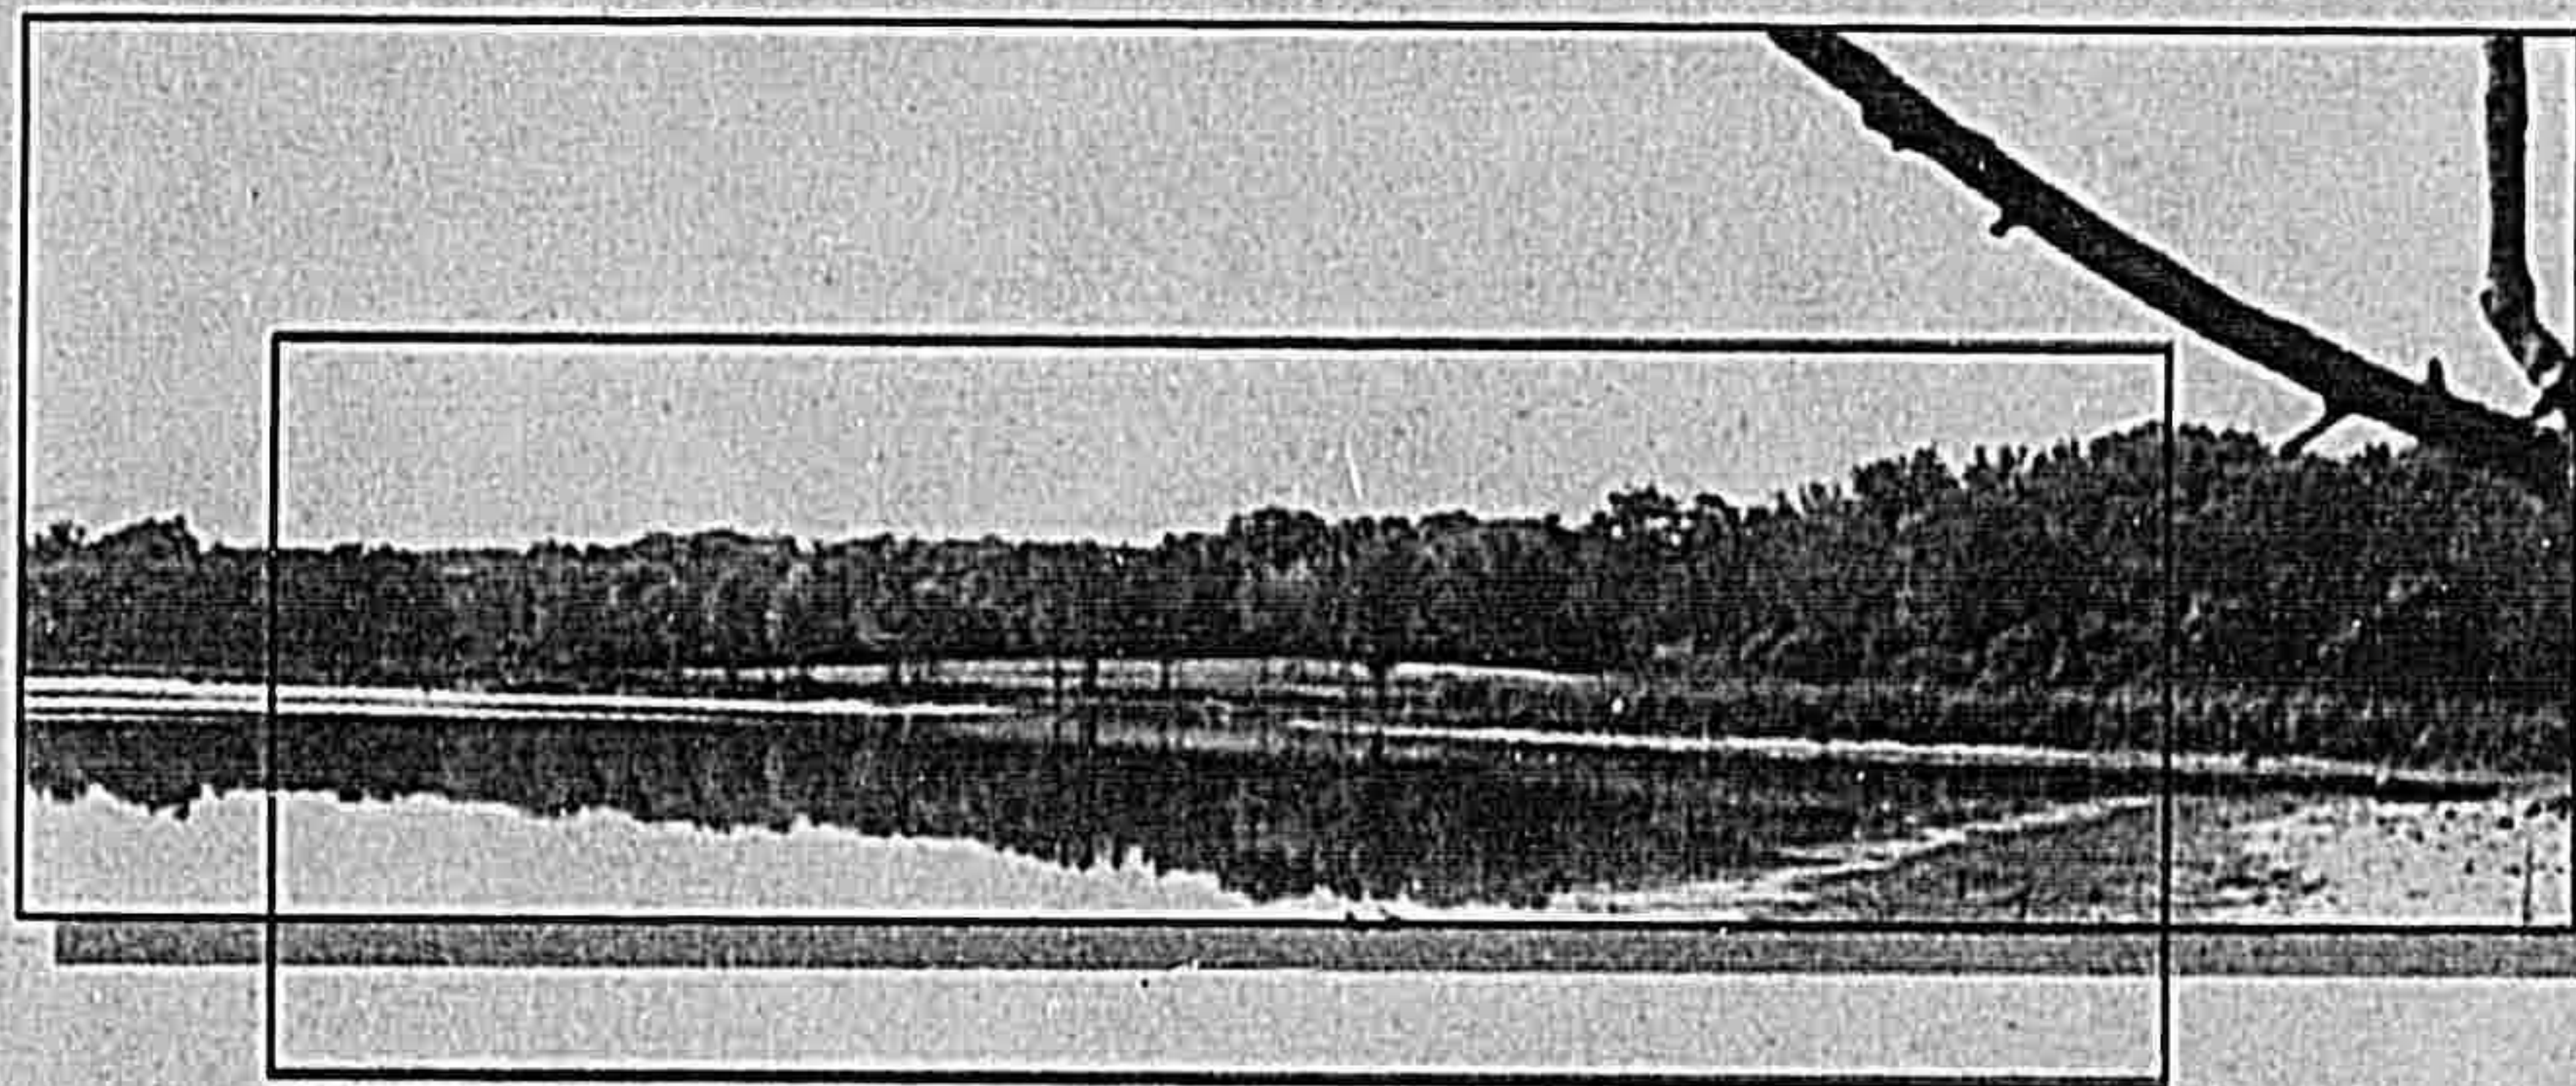

"To tell you the truth I was amazed at how many people came. We had 35-40 individuals who live up and down Fairfield Road and Chesapeake Trails attend. SMC told us they did an emergency plug by putting a piece of plywood in the right place."

Garrett also said that SMC discussed putting in a mechanical device called an adjustable outflow regulator to keep the marsh at a certain level.

According to Garrett, however, the consensus was to come up with a more natural system to regulate the marsh—one that depends on Mother Nature and not a mechanical device controlled by people.

Garrett stressed that SMC did not cause the problem.

"SMC had nothing to do with it. The only thing we are questioning is why it took so long for them to come out."

Lake County Board President Suzi Schmidt was also in attendance at the meeting.

"I did get a little emotional," said Schmidt. "When I heard there was a leak and saw the wetland draining for no apparent reason I started crying."

"I tried to buy that land for the forest preserve for seven years. Seeing it drain was like the death of something for me. I just want to get it back to its natural state, but it's on private land and I can't use public funds on private land. Hopefully they can plug it up and let it go back to its natural state."

Round Lake Heights Mayor Terry Lumpkins lives nearby the marsh and also attended the meeting.

Since then, Lumpkins has received a commitment from Neumann Homes development, the current owner of the land, for $5,000 to help restore the wetland.

On Sept. 11 SMC met in Libertyville to discuss the situation and proposed crushing the tile and making it operable. This would allow the water to flow naturally.

On Sept. 15, in another meeting in the Lake Villa Township building, water specialist for the Lake County Health Department, Mary Colwell, said she is monitoring the health of the marsh.

On Sept. 18, SMC reported to Lakeland Media that it has decided not to put in the adjustable outflow regulator. Instead, it will abandon the drain tile completely by excavating, taking out about 20 feet of pipe, putting plugs in the rest of the pipe and then back-filling it with clay.

"We are also going to grade the overflow down a couple of feet and clear out the deadwood and debris which is blocking the overflow."

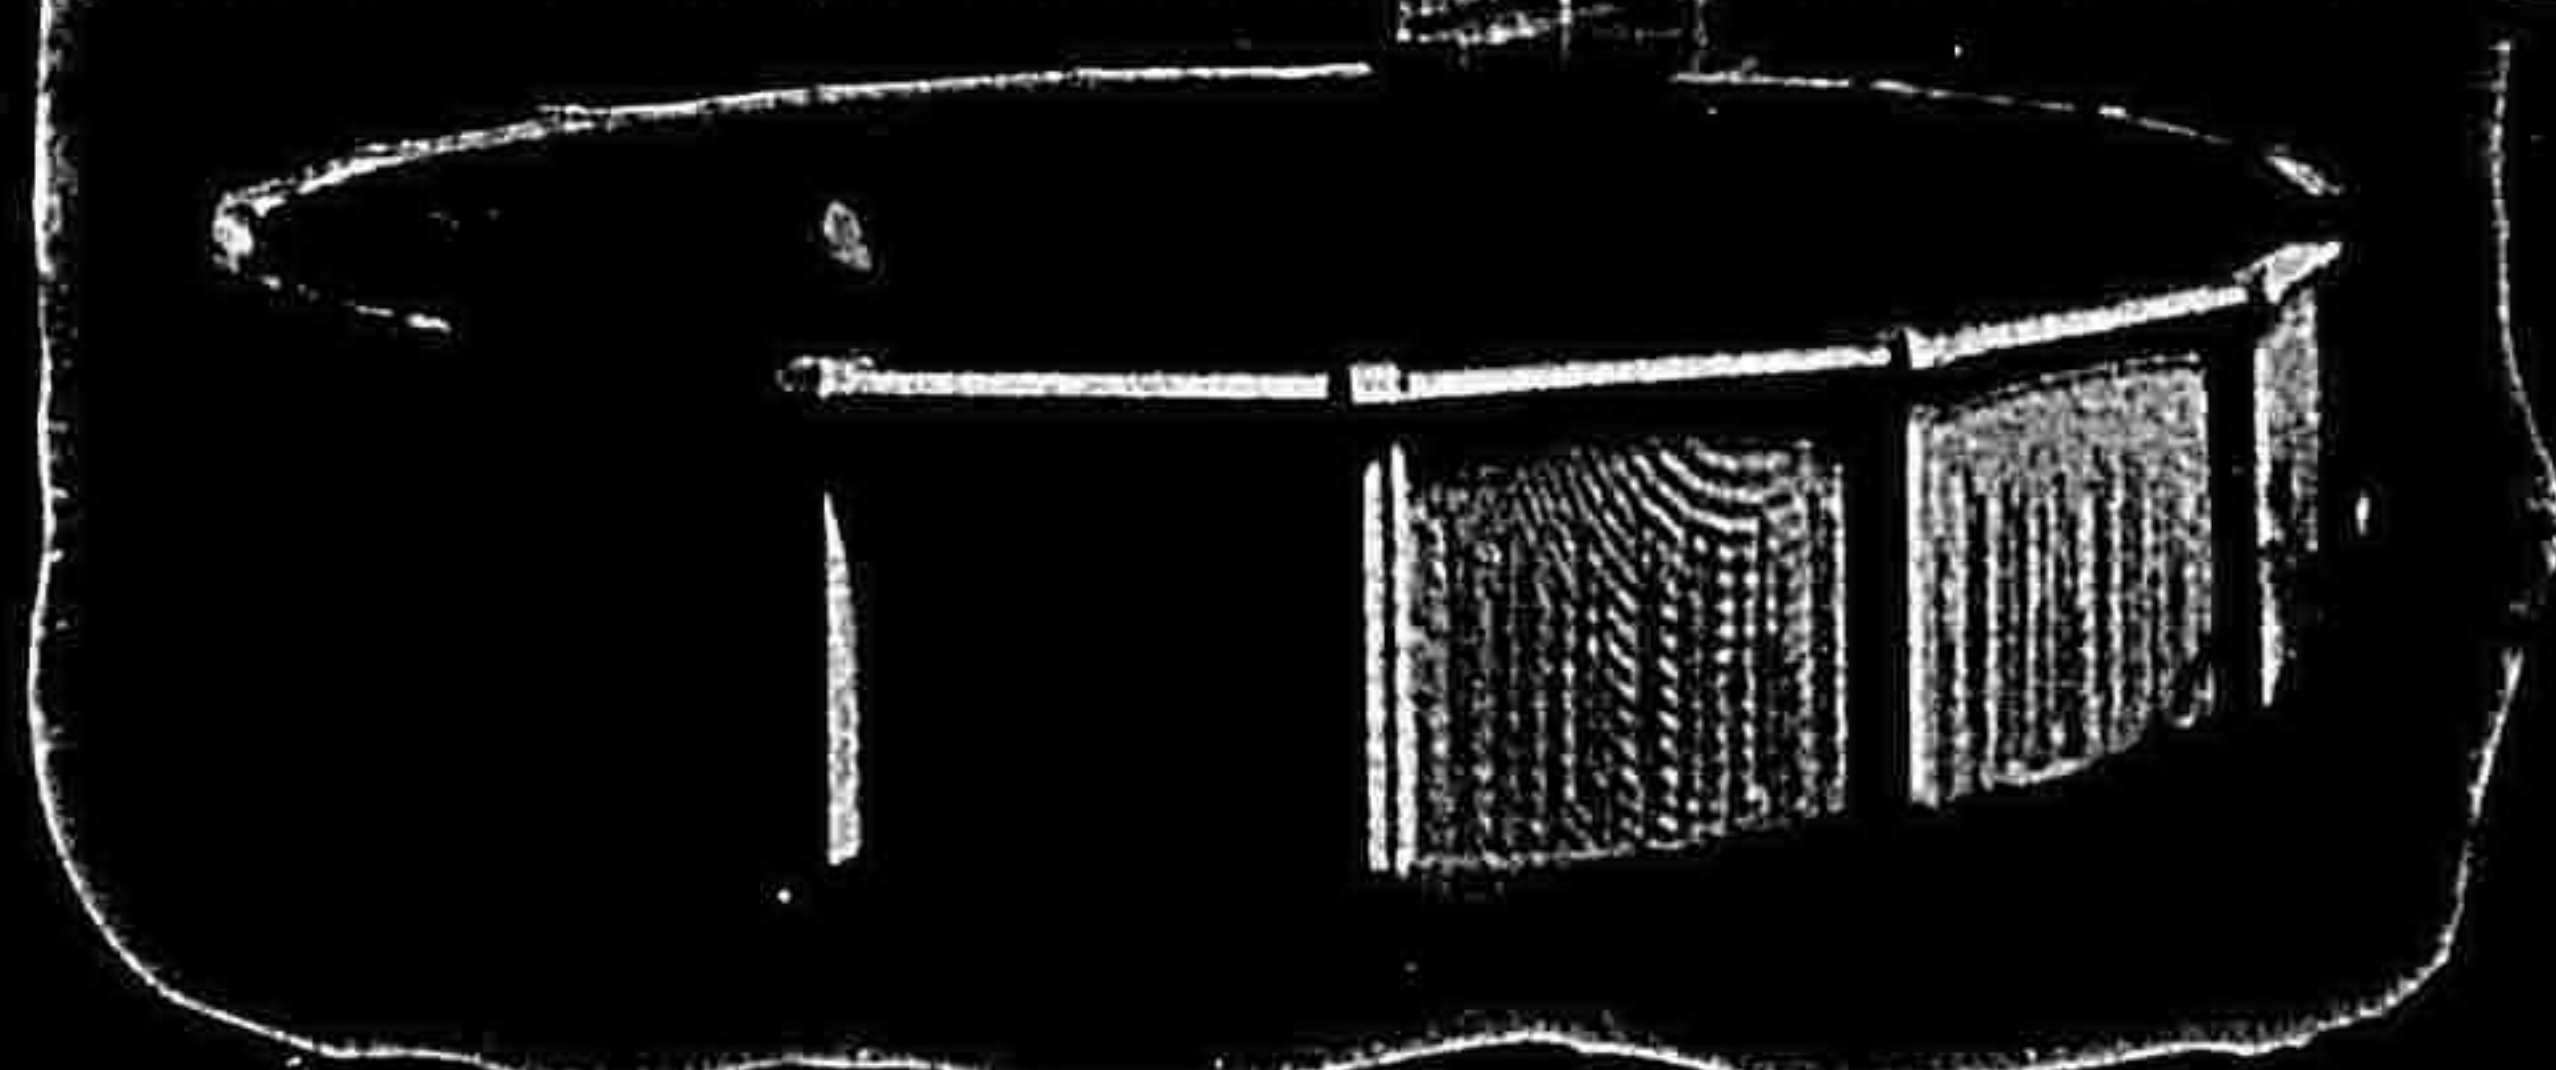

SMC has set a date of Sept. 27 at 9 a.m. as a neighborhood clean up day at the marsh. All residents living near the marsh are encouraged to come out and volunteer to help clear debris and dead wood from the land.

"We ask that people wear appropriate clothing and they will also have to sign a waiver form," Warner said.

As American as apple pie!

Any way you slice it, Long Grove's Apple Fest, sponsored by the Merchants' Association, will be a perfect pick for a fall weekend in a country setting. The event takes place Friday, Oct. 3 through Sunday, Oct. 5. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission and parking are free.

Long Grove restaurants and outdoor food booths will sell a harvest of treats as American as apple pie, 4,000 were sold at last year's fest) and apple cider, along with inspired creations such as hot apple cinnamon pretzels, apple salsa, and taffy apple beer mug sundaes. Visitors will be able to decorate their own caramel apples. For this weekend only, the Apple Haus will roll its popular apple donuts in cinnamon and sugar instead of the traditional cider glaze. Over 50,000 donuts were sold during last year's event. Purists can also buy farm fresh apples by the bag or bushel.

Throughout the historic business district, home to over 80 specialty shops, there will be activities marking our American heritage. Blacksmith Tony Vanagas sets up his forge on Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and the Long Grove Historical Society will conduct tours of its restored 19th century farmhouse from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Entertainment will be American to the core, too, with performances by The Apple Knocker Fiddlers, barbershoppers, the Dixieland Banjo Buddies, the Big Band sound of Bopology, and the classic rock and roll group named "ED". Even "Elvis" a.k.a. Bob West will be singing and swinging by Cassandra's on Towner Green on Saturday at noon and at 3 p.m. On Sunday, visitors can stroll Towner Green and check out the Car Show featuring classic American autos from the 50's, 60's and 70's.

Long Grove is located just north of the intersection of Routes 53 & 83, approximately 35 miles northwest of Chicago. For information, phone 847-634-0888.

Pine Cone Christmas Shop holds 56 Swap-n-Sell

Pine Cone Christmas Shop, in Long Grove, will host a Department 56 Swap-N-Sell on Saturday, Sept. 27 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. under the Big Top Tent in Fountain Square. The bi-annual event is for secondary market retired pieces only, and attracts new and long-time collectors of the popular porcelain houses.

Also that day, the shop, located at 210 Robert Parker Coffin Road, will host a Halloween Hullabaloo Fun Fest from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.. There will be door prizes, refreshments, and special discounts on many in-stock Department 56 accessories. New pieces in the company's expanding Halloween line will be introduced, including "Black Cat Diner," "Ghostly Carousel," and "Helga's House of Fortune." Customers will judge entries and choose prizewinners in Pine Cone's Halloween at Home Photo Contest. Entries must be mailed or brought to the shop by Wednesday, September 24th.

For information on all events or to reserve a sale table for the Swap-N-Sell, phone Pine Cone Christmas Shop at 847-634-0890.

Lonesome? In a pickle? Put a lid on it and join the Gherkin Gals

I've never really been a "joiner". I've heard tell of some Southern belles in Jackson, Miss. who've formed a club based on a vegetable group. They claim to have quite a following—all willing to get down and dirty as Sweet Potato Queens dressed in strategically padded majorette outfits, big red wigs, and dime store tiaras. Orange is definitely not my color, though I do like the idea of being able to wear a tiara while still staying decent.

Perhaps I was stifled in childhood—say when my budding interest in hopping the beauty pageant circuit was cruelly squashed by adults. A cohort and I had simply tried to level the playing field in our own little neighborhood competition. Doting moms in the audience were baffled when we announced ourselves as winners, especially since we had applied each other's makeup as delicately as Ronald McDonald. They demanded a recount, and sound punishment from our parents, when they opened the ballot box to discover their votes were outnumbered by our names in ten-year-old cursive.

As penance, this same friend decided we should dress and act the part of Catholic sisters. However, I soon lost interest when I realized she intended for me alone to join a silent order.

And so it went on into the college years. I couldn't believe it when I was invited to join a sorority. Then I found out they had something special in mind for our group of pledges. As part of the initiation, our merry band recaptured a huge composite of sorority sister photos stolen by a neighboring fraternity—this despite having to carry one sorority hopeful in a full leg cast. It was a feat hoisting her through a window of the frat, but her plaster of Paris battering ram became a real asset when it came time to beat an escape.

After that, I resigned myself to the vicarious companionship of Oprah's book club. That is, until I saw a group of middle age women in flamboyant red hats and purple dresses riding a float in a Fourth of July parade this past summer. These ladies were taking high tea with the utmost decorum, all the while riding a lurching flatbed truck.

I couldn't let my soul mates pass me by. It was a Wisc. chapter of the Red Hat Society. This club takes its inspiration from a poem by Jenny Joseph. During the past six years her words, "When I am an old woman, I shall wear purple with a red hat that doesn't go," have turned into marching orders for more than 10,000 Red Hat Society chapters throughout the world.

LES ON LIFE

The only requirement for membership is hitting the half-century mark, and a willingness to follow the dress code. From then on, check your dignity at the door for a variety of fun social activities that don't require hormone supplements. (For more information, visit the Red Hat Society web page at www.redhatsociety.com.)

I knew I more than met the entry requirements. That's why I grabbed my kids and started running after the float like a dog chasing a mail truck. Hanging onto the tail end of the flatbed, I pleaded, "How about me?" They took one look at my kids and shook their heads no with a polite tip of their hats.

Hadn't they ever seen a mother who was a late bloomer? Perhaps they attributed my puffy eyes and hound dog jowls to a bad night with the kids. "You'll have to wait a few years dear!" (By that time they'll have to remind me to join up, along with a few prompts on my name and address.)

That's it. I'm not waiting around until I don't know why I'm waiting. Now's the time to seek out other females who've fallen through the cracks finding just the right social outlet. Most likely, by now you've collected as many bumps along the road as I have. And as far as I'm concerned, green is the perfect color...but not out of envy for those who've found their niche.

Jerome Kern

'Showboat' to dock at Marriott Theatre

Award winning Marriott Theatre Lincolnshire will present the Jerome Kern classic, "Showboat." Performances begin Sept. 27 and run through Nov. 30.

The ultimate musical of Americana on the Mississippi docks at the Marriott Theatre stage with Chicago's award winning director Gary Griffin at the helm. It's the Hammerstein and Kern classic. Follow Captain Andy's show boat troupe through a forty-year journey, from the birth of the blues to ragtime, jazz and gospel. "Showboat" has it all, including such classics as "Ol Man River," the romantic "Make Believe," and the tearful "Bill."

"Showboat" stars Sean McDermott (Broadway - Chds in Miss Saigon; Rusty in Starlight Express) as Gaylord Ravenal. Mr. McDermott also starred opposite Mandy Patinkin in Falsettos. # Reptiles

The Beautiful and the Deadly

The Milwaukee Public Museum is crawling with all things scaly and green! Get nose to nose with 20 different species of LIVE reptiles—from toothy alligators to gravity-defying geckoes to a whole array of turtles and tortoises—in the exhibit Reptiles: The Beautiful and the Deadly, now open. See the flicking tongues of 10 different slithering snake species and confront real-life reptilian monsters and dragons—Gila monsters and bearded dragons—displayed in naturalistic habitats.

Reptiles: The Beautiful and the Deadly uses live reptile species to explore the many benefits they have to society and the environmental issues that have led to population drops around the world. Did you know that predatory reptiles feed on animals that would otherwise destroy crops and that alligators shape the landscape to improve water flow in marshes? Or that some medical researchers think snake venom could fight blood clots and even halt the spread of cancer?

"The Beautiful and the Deadly brings people into a world of remarkable adaptations and showcases the incredible variations of snakes, lizards and turtles," Bob Henderson, Museum curator of herpetology, said. "Reptiles are crucial to the efficient functioning of natural systems and this exhibit helps to unravel the mysteries that surround their intriguing lifestyles."

Hands-on interactive stations allow visitors to hear alligator grunts and croc talk, "milk" venom from a model rattlesnake, open and close the jaws of a deadly viper and explore the valuable role of this class of vertebrates that is more than 200 million years old.

Learn about the work of Museum herpetologists Gary Casper and Bob Henderson to protect Wisconsin's endangered and threatened reptile species.

Admission to Reptiles: The Beautiful and the Deadly is free with Museum admission. For more information, call 414-278-2728.

The sweet spot

Walter (Haley Joel Osment who has had a growth spurt since Spielberg's "A.I.") lives with his single mother Mae (Kyra Sedgwick). Mae loves her son in her own way. The number one person in Mae's life is Mae. When she leaves town to go to court reporter school, with a guy she just met last night, Mae takes Walter to stay with his elderly uncle, eccentric brothers Garth (Michael Caine) and Hub (Robert Duvall).

Walter is a shy introverted kid who doesn't want to be with the uncles any more than they want him around. Mae has a mission for Walter, to find out where the money is that the brothers allegedly have stashed, hoping to get on their good side and into their will.

As young men Garth and Hub traveled to Europe, and being neophytes they got shanghaied into the French Foreign Legion and fought in Africa. Hub loved a good fight and he became a mercenary. Garth liked the outdoors and spent time taking people on safaris. In the course of their lives, the two amassed a small fortune and only they know where it is hidden. But is that the real story? The film offers an "Arabian Nights" feel, as Garth regales Walter with tales of Hub's exploits and lost love.

There are very few pictures that appeal so well to teenagers and their grandparents as this one. It's about those two times in life when one is picking up steam for the future or, on the other hand, is slowing down, with many more days of life behind rather than in front of them. This is a perfect role for Osment as it fits into where he is in real life, changing voice and all. Caine and Duvall are veteran actors and Oscar winners who have the courage to play cantankerous old guy roles as well as their recent debonair turns in "The Quiet American" and "Assassination Tango." It's not the best picture of the year but it may be the best picture you'll see this year for grandparents and kids to do some serious bonding.

Breathing Lessons

Romantic comedies are a great genre because they can be funny yet serious and still have a happy ending.

Frances is a successful San Francisco writer, in a deep depression after a particularly cruel divorce. Her husband, while working on a research paper (he claims) fell in love with someone else and dumped Frances. Now he is filing for alimony and he and his new love plan to live in the house.

Frances's best friend Patti (Sandra Oh) has just found out she's pregnant. She doesn't want to fly, so Patti and her lover decide that they will exchange the two coach tickets they had for a romantic gay tour of Tuscany for a first class ticket for Frances. She turns them down at first but then realizes that she needs to be somewhere else soon, and before you know it Frances is on a "Gay and Away" bus tour in Tuscany.

In the town of Cortona, Frances discovers a charming house for sale. Bathed in the Tuscan light, it is appropriately called "Bramasole," translation...to yearn for the sun.

Restoration of the house is a metaphor for repairing the damage in Frances's life, of course. As the walls come down Frances begins to open to life again. She does meet a lover, Marcello (Raoul Bova); and though he is a charismatic and pivotal distraction, he is not the solution. Real personal growth comes from the deepening relationships Frances develops with the people of the village. Vincent Riotta as Signor Martini, the real estate agent, is wonderful, kind, and married and faithful to his wife but "in love" with Frances. She embraces love again as she watches a young Polish worker, on the crew restoring the house, and an Italian girl fall in love.

Perhaps most influential to Frances is the beautiful, free spirited Katherine, a woman in her 50's, living alone but not lonely. Portrayed by Lindsay Duncan, Katherine epitomizes the thought that one should make life an adventure and snatch opportunities from the table of life for the short time we are here.

The characters are at times overdrawn but they're forgiven in this lovely fantasy. The cinematography is absolutely beautiful; you want to go to Tuscany.

Just as in her debut role in "A Little Romance" two decades ago, Lane allows a spirited sense of adventure to lead her character to true love. We've all been dumped or hurt by someone, and Frances shows us how to not only survive, but be healthier and happier than ever.

Feeling Squashed?

As every gardener knows, after the blossom comes the fruit. And in the case of squash, sometimes the fruit comes so fast and furious that even the most industrious cook can be hard-pressed to use it all.

So today we look at different ways to cook squash, including a few ways that many people might not ordinarily consider.

Sure, most cooks know about Squash Casserole and Zucchini Bread and Ratatouille, three great ways to cook squash. But what about a sweet squash pie?

Some of my favorite squash recipes come from one of my favorite vegetable cookbooks, Vegetables Every Day by Jack Bishop (HarperCollins, 2001). Cheese lovers will love Bishop's Parmesan-Crusted Zucchini. Though he cooks the zucchini for what seems like forever, his technique allows the cheese and squash to practically fuse together for a crisp and delicious side dish.

Like Bishop, I also like slow-cooking squash, as in his recipe for Pattypan Squash with Onion and Parsley. Though Bishop uses olive oil and cooks the squash uncovered, I more often use butter, toss uncovered for a minute or two over medium-high heat, then reduce the heat to low and cook the squash covered until tender, 15-20 minutes. Then I give it one last blast of medium-high heat with the lid off to concentrate the cooking juices.

The result is a highly flavored dish that lends itself to any kind of squash. It also can be adapted to add a bit of garlic, or use herbs such as basil, thyme or dill.

Finally, lots of people make a quick bread with grated zucchini. Most of these breads, though, are sweet, using spices such as cinnamon and nuts such as walnuts.

From Good Housekeeping Great Baking (Hearst Books, 2003) comes a savory squash bread, Zucchini Cheese Loaf, with green onions and a combination of Cheddar and Parmesan, as well as a peppery bite from freshly ground black pepper.

Freshness is unlikely to be a problem when using squash that's homegrown or bought at a farmers' market. Still, always look for squash that is firm and unblemished. Wrinkled skin and a rubbery feel indicate older squash and should be avoided.

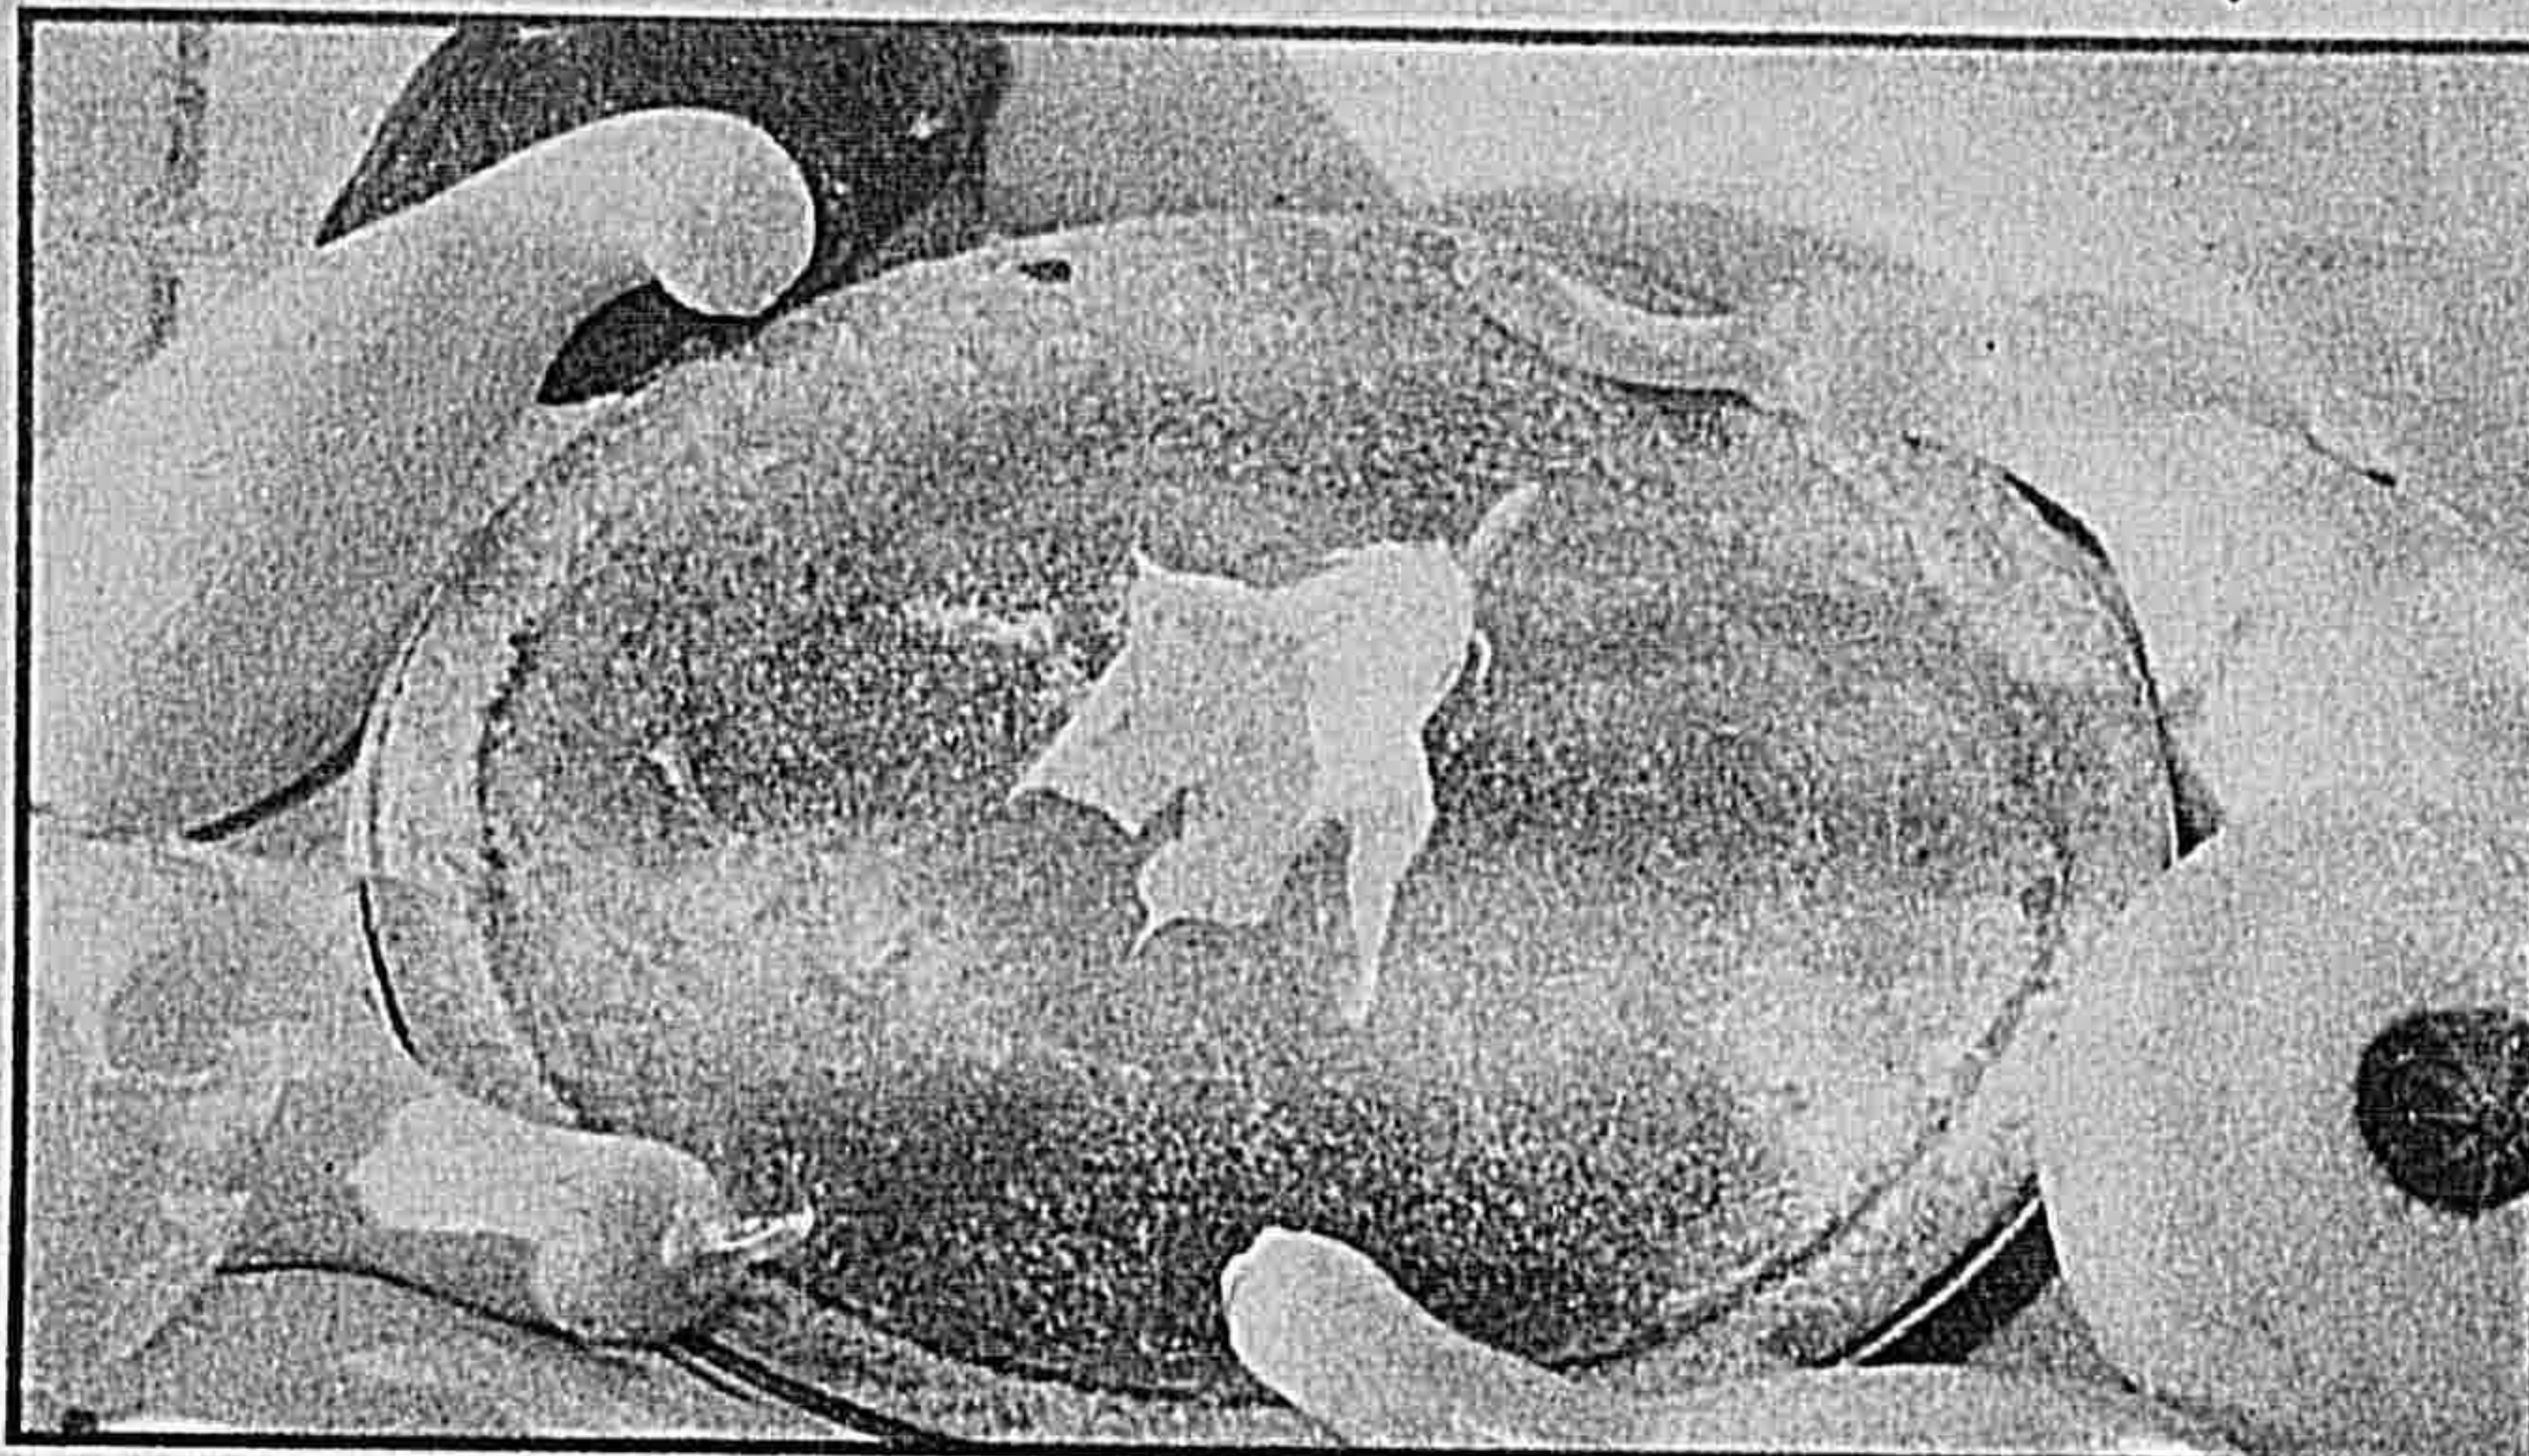

Connoisseurs tend to prefer smaller squash, not only because they think it has a better flavor but also because it usually has less seeds. Larger squash can taste bitter. Also, squash are 95 percent water, so bigger squash naturally tend to just have a lot more water.

Many squash recipes call for boiling or steaming, and squash is certainly well-used in soups. But because of that high water content, many cooks prefer dry methods of sauteing, broiling or grilling to bring out the best taste, essentially evaporating the water and concentrating the flavor. People obsessed with getting rid of the water in squash have been known to salt it and let the water drain off in a colander for an hour before cooking. In general, that's unnecessary.

One thing that is necessary with squash is washing. They are great at retaining bits of dirt from the field or garden.

FLAVOR

It's easy to feel overwhelmed when this crop's harvest comes in, but you can bring it under control with these versatile recipes

Squash pie is something a little different to make to use of all that squash.

Squash Pie

1 cup cooked, mashed and drained squash
1 cup sugar, plus more for topping
2 tablespoons margarine
1 large egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1/4 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 tablespoons flour
19-inch unbaked pie shell
Cinnamon

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees.
2. Mix cooked squash, sugar, margarine, egg, extracts, salt and flour in a bowl until well blended. Pour into pie shell. In a small bowl, combine a tablespoon or so of additional sugar with some cinnamon, then sprinkle over the top of the squash mixture. Bake 40-45 minutes, until set and lightly browned.

Sol Y Canto (sun and song), an exuberant Latin music ensemble, will perform in concert at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 10 in Mainstage Theatre of the James Lumber Center for the Performing Arts at the College of Lake County.

Bilingual and multicultural, Sol Y Canto's music features a wide variety of acoustic Afro-Latin, Caribbean and flamenco-influenced songs and rhythms. The group is headed by lead vocalist Rosi Amador and her husband Brian Amador, musical director and guitarist. Other members include outstanding Latin musicians from Cuba, Uruguay, Puerto Rico, Argentina and the U.S. The group has established a national reputation for interpretations of Latin music that feature rich vocal harmonies, Spanish guitar, wind and percussion instruments. Performing selections ranging from tender ballads to driving dance tunes, Sol Y Canto draws audiences of all ages, including both Spanish and non-Spanish speakers.

"Sancocho," Sol Y Canto's debut recording, was chosen by Scott Alarik of the Boston Globe as one of the 10 best recordings of 1994. The group's 1996 release "Sendero del Sol" was produced by renowned Panamanian jazz pianist Danilo Perez and was chosen as "one of the best of the year" by Hispanic Magazine. Their 1999 album "En Todo Momento" features an acoustic approach, showcasing rich harmony vocals and an intimate musical ensemble, and their 2003 album "Twice As Many Friends/El Doble de Amigos" features bilingual children's songs, enjoyable for kids as well as adults.

The group has performed at the White House, the Kennedy Center, the Philadelphia Art Museum and the Vancouver Folk Festival. Additionally, the Boston-based band has won numerous awards, including "Best of Boston for Latin Rhythms" by Boston Magazine and multiple Boston Music Awards for "Outstanding Latin Act."

Tickets are $22 for the general public, $20 for CLC students, staff, faculty and alumni association members as well as seniors 65 and over; and $12 for children under 12. The concert is being partially funded by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council. Call 847-543-2300 for tickets.

UniverSoul Circus hits Chicago Sept. 26-Oct. 9

UniverSoul Circus features performers from Africa, Chile, China, Argentina, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Brazil and the United States.

Is it a rock concert, gospel show, or Broadway musical? No, it's the UniverSoul Circus 10th Anniversary production of Poppin, Soul, featuring Ringmaster Casual Cal, the pumped up soulful sounds of The UniverSoul Band and an electrifying cast of performers including Chinese acrobats, Siberian white tigers and Colombian motorcycle daredevils.

UniverSoul Showtimes at Washington Park located 5531 S. Martin Luther King Drive in Chicago, Sept. 26: 7:30 p.m.; Tuesdays thru Fridays: 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturdays: 12 noon, 4:30 p.m., 8 p.m.; Sundays: 1 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Ticket prices range from $15 to $30; All 10:30 a.m. tickets are $10.

Ten years ago, Atlanta based UniverSoul Circus put the circus world on notice that center ring will never be the same. As a one-ring circus, UniverSoul affords its audience a rare, up close and personal theatrical experience.

"At UniverSoul Circus, you feel like you're front row center, regardless of where you sit," said UniverSoul Founder and CEO Cedric Walker. "Not only are we intimate in our one ring big top, we're in your face...It's all right there, right in front of you. You can reach out and touch it!"

For the seventh consecutive year, UniverSoul Circus enjoys the national sponsorship of Burger King. Its partnership with Burger King has enabled the circus to expand its community outreach efforts throughout the country.

Burger King™, along with the UniverSoul Circus, shares in the same commitment to community and family. "That's why we are proud to be aligned with this great family-friendly show for seven consecutive years," said Grant Walker, Jr., Director, Alliances and Sponsorships, Burger King Corporation. "We are equally pleased that all of our restaurants in the cities in which the circus will perform are offering discount coupons good for $5 off the regular price of admission, making Burger King™ a great place for great food and a great place for a great discount to the show."

In 1993, Walker, a concert and gospel themed play promoter, began patching together the initial blueprint for the Circus. "I envisioned hip hop musicals, a return to vaudeville and animal acts," said Walker. "That's when the decision was made to create a full-blown big top circus."

Although Walker lined up backers and sponsors, few believed in his vision, so he used his own money to finance the majority of the million-dollar production. UniverSoul turned the traditional, 'pomp and circumstance' circus world upside down in 1994 when Walker's dream of 'Hip Hop under the Big Top' turned into a reality in the parking lot of Atlanta Fulton County Stadium. Despite going deep into the red during the first season, enthusiastic crowds and rave reviews encouraged Walker and company to continue operations. By 1997 the circus tour had grown to 10 cities, 19 cities in 1999, 31 cities in 2000, toured South Africa 2001—its first international destination, and 45 cities in 2002.

Joining the returning cast of Casual Cal, sidekick Zeke, The Olates acrobatic dogs and an expanded horn driven Poppin, Soul Band are several new acts for 2003 hailing from the far reaches of the globe: China, Colombia, Siberia, Australia, Ecuador, Argentina, South Africa, and the United States.

China Soul, the fast paced acrobats from China will bring audiences to their feet as they dance and flip while balancing dangerously powerful steel balls on a single thread. Their performance will amaze. The Big Top Biker Boyz, from Colombia, features four daredevil motorcyclists spinning their wheels at breakneck speed in a steel globe. One mistake. One hiccup. Instant death.

The Siberian Whites, eight stunning, 500 pound, tigers, charmed to soothe the wild beast within by Ameera Diamond, an alluring Virginian, and the only female African American tiger trainer in the world. Also enjoy the Woodcock elephants with Margo Porter on parade with the elephants. There are plenty of funky moves and acrobatics as the showgirls fight to keep up with UniverSoul, three famous fleet footed dancing pachyderms. Poppin, Hoppin, Kangaroo hails from the Australian outback. It's an uproarious physical comedy mismatch when the UniverSoul Kangaroo takes on a human sparring partner.

The Flying Navas, daredevils of the air, provide gravity defying feats 50 feet in the air. Precision is the key as this Ecuadorian trapeze act turns power and speed into grace at high altitudes and terminal velocities. UniverSoul Circus Drum Line, from the United States, is the soul of the college music scene. Brought to life in the motion picture of the same name, circus goers will get a rare up close and personal look at this up-and-coming art form.

For tickets, visit the group's web site at www.universoulcircus.com or you can purchase them at ticketmaster.com. For group sales of 20 tickets or more, call 1-800-316-7439.

"Not only are we intimate in our one ring big top, we're in your face...It's all right there, right in front of you. You can reach out and touch it!"

*Cedric Walker
Founder and CEO of UniverSoul Circus*

The Hair Hanger has been hanging around for years. Now she's spinning and juggling by the strands of her hair under the UniverSoul big top in a supernatural display of elegance and endurance. The show will be in Chicago Sept. 26-Oct. 19.

AT A GLANCE

Charged under new homicide law

Island Lake—An Island Lake man has been charged by the McHenry County grand jury with drug-induced homicide and two other felony charges. After authorities concluded that the death of Wonder Lake resident Kaley Lieburn was the result of allegedly accepting heroin from Robert L. Berger, 19, during a night of drug and alcohol use, Berger was charged.

Drug-induced homicide is part of a new controversial law that makes Illinois penalties for illegal drug use one of the toughest in the country. Called the Kelley Baker's Law, the law was drafted in 2001 as a way to punish club-related drug dealers.

Man shot in home

Round Lake Beach—Investigators continue to search through evidence in the murder of Michael Davis, 26, of Mundelein, who was shot through the heart at a home on Clarendon Drive. Police have not established a motive as of yet but investigators are saying the slaying did not appear to be a random act of violence.

Money still missing in embezzling case

Libertyville—Evelyn Lopez, 52, of Round Lake Beach, is accused of stealing over $3 million over eight years from the pension funds of her Libertyville employer, Aldridge Electric Co., and still has authorities baffled as to the whereabouts of the missing funds. She is still being held in lieu of $4 million bond in the Lake County jail. Lopez faces one count of theft over $100,000, with her former employer as the victim, and two charges of theft over $100,000, with individual employees as the victims.

Teachers strike

Gages Lake—Woodland teachers were out picketing instead of teaching in a strike that has left the parents of 7,000 kids scrambling to make child-care plans. Union leaders have vowed to stick to their demands of a 29.5 salary percent increase over the next 3 years. The latest figure offered by the school board was 15.5 percent over three years.

In his blood

Publisher honored for a lifetime of achievements

You could say newspapering has always been in William Schroeder's blood. In fact, if you check, his blood type is probably ink.

Schroeder, publisher of Lakeland Media's 11 weekly newspapers, Market-Journal, Great Lakes Bulletin and Country Peddler has been at the forefront of Lake County journalism for parts of seven decades.

After so many years of service and dedication to hometown journalism, Schroeder was named the recipient of the Suburban Newspapers of America's 2003 Dean S. Leshar Award.

The Suburban Newspapers of America is a collection of over 2,000 member newspapers in the U.S., Canada and South America.

The Leshar Award will be presented to Schroeder on Sept. 29 in Chicago at the SNA Fall Publishers' and Advertising Directors' Conference.

"Schroeder is a worthy recipient of SNA's highest honor for his decades of publishing achievements and service to the industry," said Harrison Cochran, SNA's immediate past president. "He was a founder of the Suburban Newspaper Foundation, predecessor to SNA."

New health center now underway

The North Chicago Community Health Center will soon have a new home.

A groundbreaking ceremony took place on Sept. 17 at the center's future location, 2215 14th St., only blocks away from its current home.

The new 10,100 square foot facility will provide general/family medicine, pediatrics, dental services, prenatal program and family planning.

Twelve medical exam rooms and five dental service rooms are planned with increased parking space for patients and staff members.

It is estimated that the new location will care for 15,900 medical and 6,300 patients annually.

For many years the Lake County Health Department depended on the 10th Street Medical Building. A rapidly growing client base created a need for a larger facility.

The cost for the new building is approximately $2 million, with contributions from a HRSA-BPHC grant in the amount of $906,000 sponsored by former Congressman, John Porter. Senator Terry Link sponsored $75,000 in Illinois First Grant Funds.

It is hoped the new facility will be open by summer of 2004.

The new facility is a part of the strategic planning goals set by the board of health, said Dale Galassie, the health department's executive director.

'One of the goals of the board of health in governing council is to increase access to care. This will help do that'

Dale Galassie

"One of the goals of the board of health in governing council is to increase access to care," Galassie said. "This will help do that."

The new facility will enhance the Health Department's efforts in addressing minority health issues, Galassie said.

North Chicago has been very supportive of the move, Galassie said.

"The City of North Chicago has been working with us very well in terms of making the site work," he said. "It will be a flagship facility that we are excited about for the community."

This has not always been the case, Galassie said. "All communities don't necessarily want a community health center even though they need one," he said.

Two more facilities are in the works—one in Highland Park and a new building for the existing Mid-Lakes Clinic in Round Lake Park.

is planned to replace the 3,500-square-foot Mid-Lakes Clinic.

The building design is completed and bids have been received. A summer 2004 opening is planned.

Funding for the Highland Park facility has been secured, and the health department is in the process of purchasing a downtown site.

Construction on that facility is expected to begin this spring, with completion scheduled for the summer of 2005. Galassie said that the southeastern quadrant is the one geographic area in the county that had not been served by the health department.

"Again, a partnership with the city of Highland Park is going to make that happen," said Galassie.

weekly circulation of 1,800 building it to a group of 14 dynamic publications serving hundreds of thousands of readers, Schroeder got started in his field at an early age.

Schroeder's path in journalism began at age 12, when he started producing a four-page newspaper for his grade school by hand, including the cartoons. He then would take the completed stories and have copies made for his classmates.

Schroeder then planted his professional roots in Lake County, landing a position with the Waukegan News-Sun as a general assignment reporter.

After three years there, Schroeder and his father, Marshall R. Schroeder, who was the business manager at the Libertyville Independent Register, talked about entering the newspaper-publishing world. They settled on the idea that they wanted to find a newspaper in the Midwest to remain close to family.

After looking for six months and visiting many different properties, they decided to talk to a local newspaper publisher to see if he would be interested in selling his printing business that included three newspapers. From that meeting in 1956, Lakeland Newspapers was formed.

Schroeder, 74, remains involved in his newspaper group by continuing to work full time. He remains active in many local chambers of commerce, the Navy League, Illinois Press Foundation Board of Directors, historian of the Lake County Fair, membership chairman of Long Lake Yacht Club and involved in Illinois Press Association and Suburban Newspapers of America.

Faith-based charity expands public appeal

A church-sponsored charity providing food and shelter to the needy is reaching out for public support by sponsoring a volleyball tournament and silent auction Saturday, Oct. 18.

COOL (Christian Outreach of Lutherans) has extended an open invitation to join the day of fun at Jesse Oaks Restaurant, Gages Lake.

Sparked by nine founding churches, COOL has grown to a network of churchgoers, business benefactors and private individuals to become a major provider of food, transition housing and job training.

Executive Direct Diane Weber sounded an urgent appeal for silent auction items that can be donated by calling the COOL food pantry at 847-662-1230. COOL is a faith-based agency available to all Lake County residents. It is registered as a 501 (c)(3), not-for-profit, tax exempt corporation.

In 2002, the food pantry provided

275,000 meals for 23,150 persons. Typically, a four-day emergency food supply is made to needy persons. Food donations so far this year are running at an increase of 25 percent over last year.

The COOL housing model is considered unique. Qualified families enter an initial phase where rent and utilities are provided. If continued support is required, families enter phase two where a low amount of rent is required to be paid. COOL maintains between nine and 12 housing units in Waukegan and Zion.

At the same time demand for help has been increasing, corporate and foundation support has been dwindling, according to LuAnn Dunham Doty, a volunteer residing in Graylake. Doty can be contacted at 847-543-1816 for both auction contributions and volleyball tournament entries.

Probation officers honored

Three officers of Adult Probation were honored at the fall conference of the Illinois Probation and Court Services Association, according to Chief Judge Margaret Mullen.

"These officers have been with the Lake County Adult Probation Division for many years, and I applaud them for their dedication and the many contributions they have made in the field of probation and court services," Mullen said.

Mary Figeas, now an Assistant Director of Adult Probation, was the recipient of the prestigious Pauline Gansauer Award. Established in 1976, the award is given to outstanding probation officers for their valuable contributions to the profession, exemplary service and dedicated professionalism which serves as a model for others and advances the quality of probation practice.

Laura Camarena-Lopez and Dan Horan received the Distinguished Service Award for their excellent work performance and commitment to their clients and the community. Both Camarena-Lopez and Horan are Principal Officers and both have been with Adult Probation since 1989.

Several of the presenters at the conference included Lake County probation officers Jeff Ross, Frank Morelli, Les Niemi, Steve Fabbri and Bev Brooks.

Equine authorization vote set

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Seventy-seven thousand Illinois horse owners are eligible to take part in a referendum vote on Oct. 7 that could prove beneficial for the 200,000 horses in the state.

The vote is on House Bill 1121 signed by Governor Rod Blagojevich. The bill allows horse owners to finance equine research and education programs, and to continue therapeutic assistance programs, with funds generated from a feed check-off program.

The bill calls for a referendum vote by horse owners to voluntarily contribute a nickel per 50-pound bag of commercial feed.

The authorization vote is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 7, from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at the University of Illinois Lake County Office at the intersection of routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake.

"I can't imagine why anyone would be against it," said Marianne Guy, owner of Gingerwood Farms in Antioch. "The money collected will be used for research and five cents does not sound like a lot of money. Even if you're a big user and buy a ton of feed it's only $2."

Guy said she used to raise quarter horses for a living but now only owns four horses.

"We need to get the word out about this referendum," Guy said. "We need more research and this is a painless way to do it."

Round Lake Park Building Commissioner Larry Scott is also a big time horse lover and owns eight of his own.

"I think it's a good idea," said Scott. "Whatever we can do to help the horses is great."

Known as the Illinois Equine Research and Promotion Act, the new legislation requires the University of Illinois Extension to conduct this referendum among equine owners on the collection and use of the voluntary assessment.

The referendum must be conducted within 90 days of the effective date of the legislation, July 10.

If the referendum passes, the Horsemen's Council of Illinois (HCI) will create and appoint members to the Illinois Equine Research and Promotion Board.

This board will determine the use of funds, estimated to be up to $400,000 a year, according to Kevin Kline, of the University of Illinois.

"This check-off program uses no state resources, requires no state funding and is not a tax," said Frank Bowman, who serves as HCI president. "Rather, it's a structure that will enable the horse industry, in a volunteer manner, to self-fund the programs."

"A provision of the legislation is that horse owners who buy feed, but do not wish to contribute, may request and obtain a refund of their money," said Kay Doll, Unit Leader for the University of Illinois Extension.

Absentee voting started on Sept. 22 and continues through Oct. 4.

Prospective voters are required to provide proof of horse ownership or leasehold status through one of five documents.

There is no age limit as long as any of these requirements are met.

Horses are a $3.8 billion goods and services industry in Illinois.

Lake County Marine Corps League Commandant Herb Spohr, Riverside Golf Course Pro Louie Maiorano, Chaplain Ken Hauser and Trustee Jim Robbins will be hosting a golf outing at the Libertyville course Oct. 8. The group also invite all former Marines to attend meetings at the Libertyville American Legion Hall every third Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m.—Photo by Sandy Bressner

Gallimore leaves Preserves post

By CAREL SCHMIDLKOFER
Staff Reporter

After a 21-year career with the Lake County Forest Preserve District, Janet Gallimore, the district's director of cultural resources, has taken on new challenges in Washington State.

It was Gallimore's vision for preserving the county's heritage and bringing arts to the community that won the admiration of her colleagues.

During her tenure, Gallimore made the expansion of the Lake County Discovery Museum a reality, taking it from a relatively unknown collection of artifacts into a museum of national worthy of national recognition.

Gallimore was responsible for converting the old barn buildings, which housed artifacts into climate-controlled buildings that now provide year-round exhibits, special events and educational information to visitors.

It was through her leadership that local citizens groups understood what was needed to create the Greenbelt Cultural Center in North Chicago.

Upon her recommendation, the Bonner Farm's Heritage Farm House in Lindenhurst was saved and refurbished.

Her leadership guided the board and citizens groups through the process of stabilizing the building as well as planning the exhibitions.

At the time of her departure Gallimore was working with Barat College and the forest preserve on the Adlai Stevenson home in Mettawa. Gallimore will be launching a Lewis and Clark project through the Confluence Project—a Vancouver public arts program.

"She had the big picture vision and could bring people together to achieve it," said Carol Calabrese, Dist. 15 board member.

"Her departure is a great loss to Lake County but it's a tremendous gain for the Lewis and Clark project."

"She has really awakened Lake County the fine arts and our museum," said Suzi Schmidt, chairman of the Lake County Board.

Schmidt said there are no immediate plans to replace Gallimore.

EDITORIALS

Blend cultures to better downtown

Downtown revitalization has been a topic of public discourse ever since shopping centers and big box stores either eroded or knocked out traditional main street retailing.

In the Lakeland area, revitalization efforts have taken many forms ranging from signal success to frustrating disappointment. A subset of retail resuscitation is the creation of downtown where a downtown never existed. Examples of this exist in our midst with efforts to fashion a downtown "atmosphere" like Gurnee and Buffalo Grove are undertaking. Multi-million dollar investment is being made in Lincolnshire for North and South Village Green where shops are mixed with public gathering places.

Among the notable retail revivals is reestablished historic Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville where the nationally acclaimed MainStreet movement has been a driving force for revitalization. Another revival format is municipal investment like Grayslake's more than $3 million budget for street repaving, new sidewalks, antique benches, streetlights and landscaping. All the expenditures are designed to present an inviting environment for shoppers. Lake Zurich officials are among leaders who appreciate the importance of maintaining a thriving downtown. They are pushing a revitalization program tied to their lakefront. Antioch had an injection of interest and recommitment to downtown in a battle over approval of a Wal-Mart on the outskirts of the community. Main St. advocates lost but their resolve to thrive has stiffened.

One downtown revival in Lake County occurred when the welcome mat was extended to Mexican-American entrepreneurs. Spurred by immigration, the historic downtown of the Village of Round Lake is bustling again with stores open seven-days-a-week. Parking spaces are filled, there is foot traffic all day long and lights are on at night. Only a few years ago vacant stores marked the business thoroughfare. Demographic shifts ignited the Round Lake business picture in a dramatic way.

Think of it. With the global focus in the business world today, the potential for variety is endless. The downtown hub can feature Thai, Indian, Cuban and Middle East cuisine, shop keepers from Asia, the Russian shoe repairman and Baltic native natives offering hand-made curios.

Diversity could be the key to sparking downtown economic vitality. We've noticed multi-cultural ventures finding success in shopping centers and strip malls. Why not traditional downtowns? Diversity could be the way back for main street.

Getting bypassed on conventions

There is an air of puzzlement concerning why the interest in development of suburban convention and meeting facilities has largely bypassed Lake County. Could be that a reluctance on the part of investors to "duke it out" with the Chicago convention business colossus is an underlying reason.

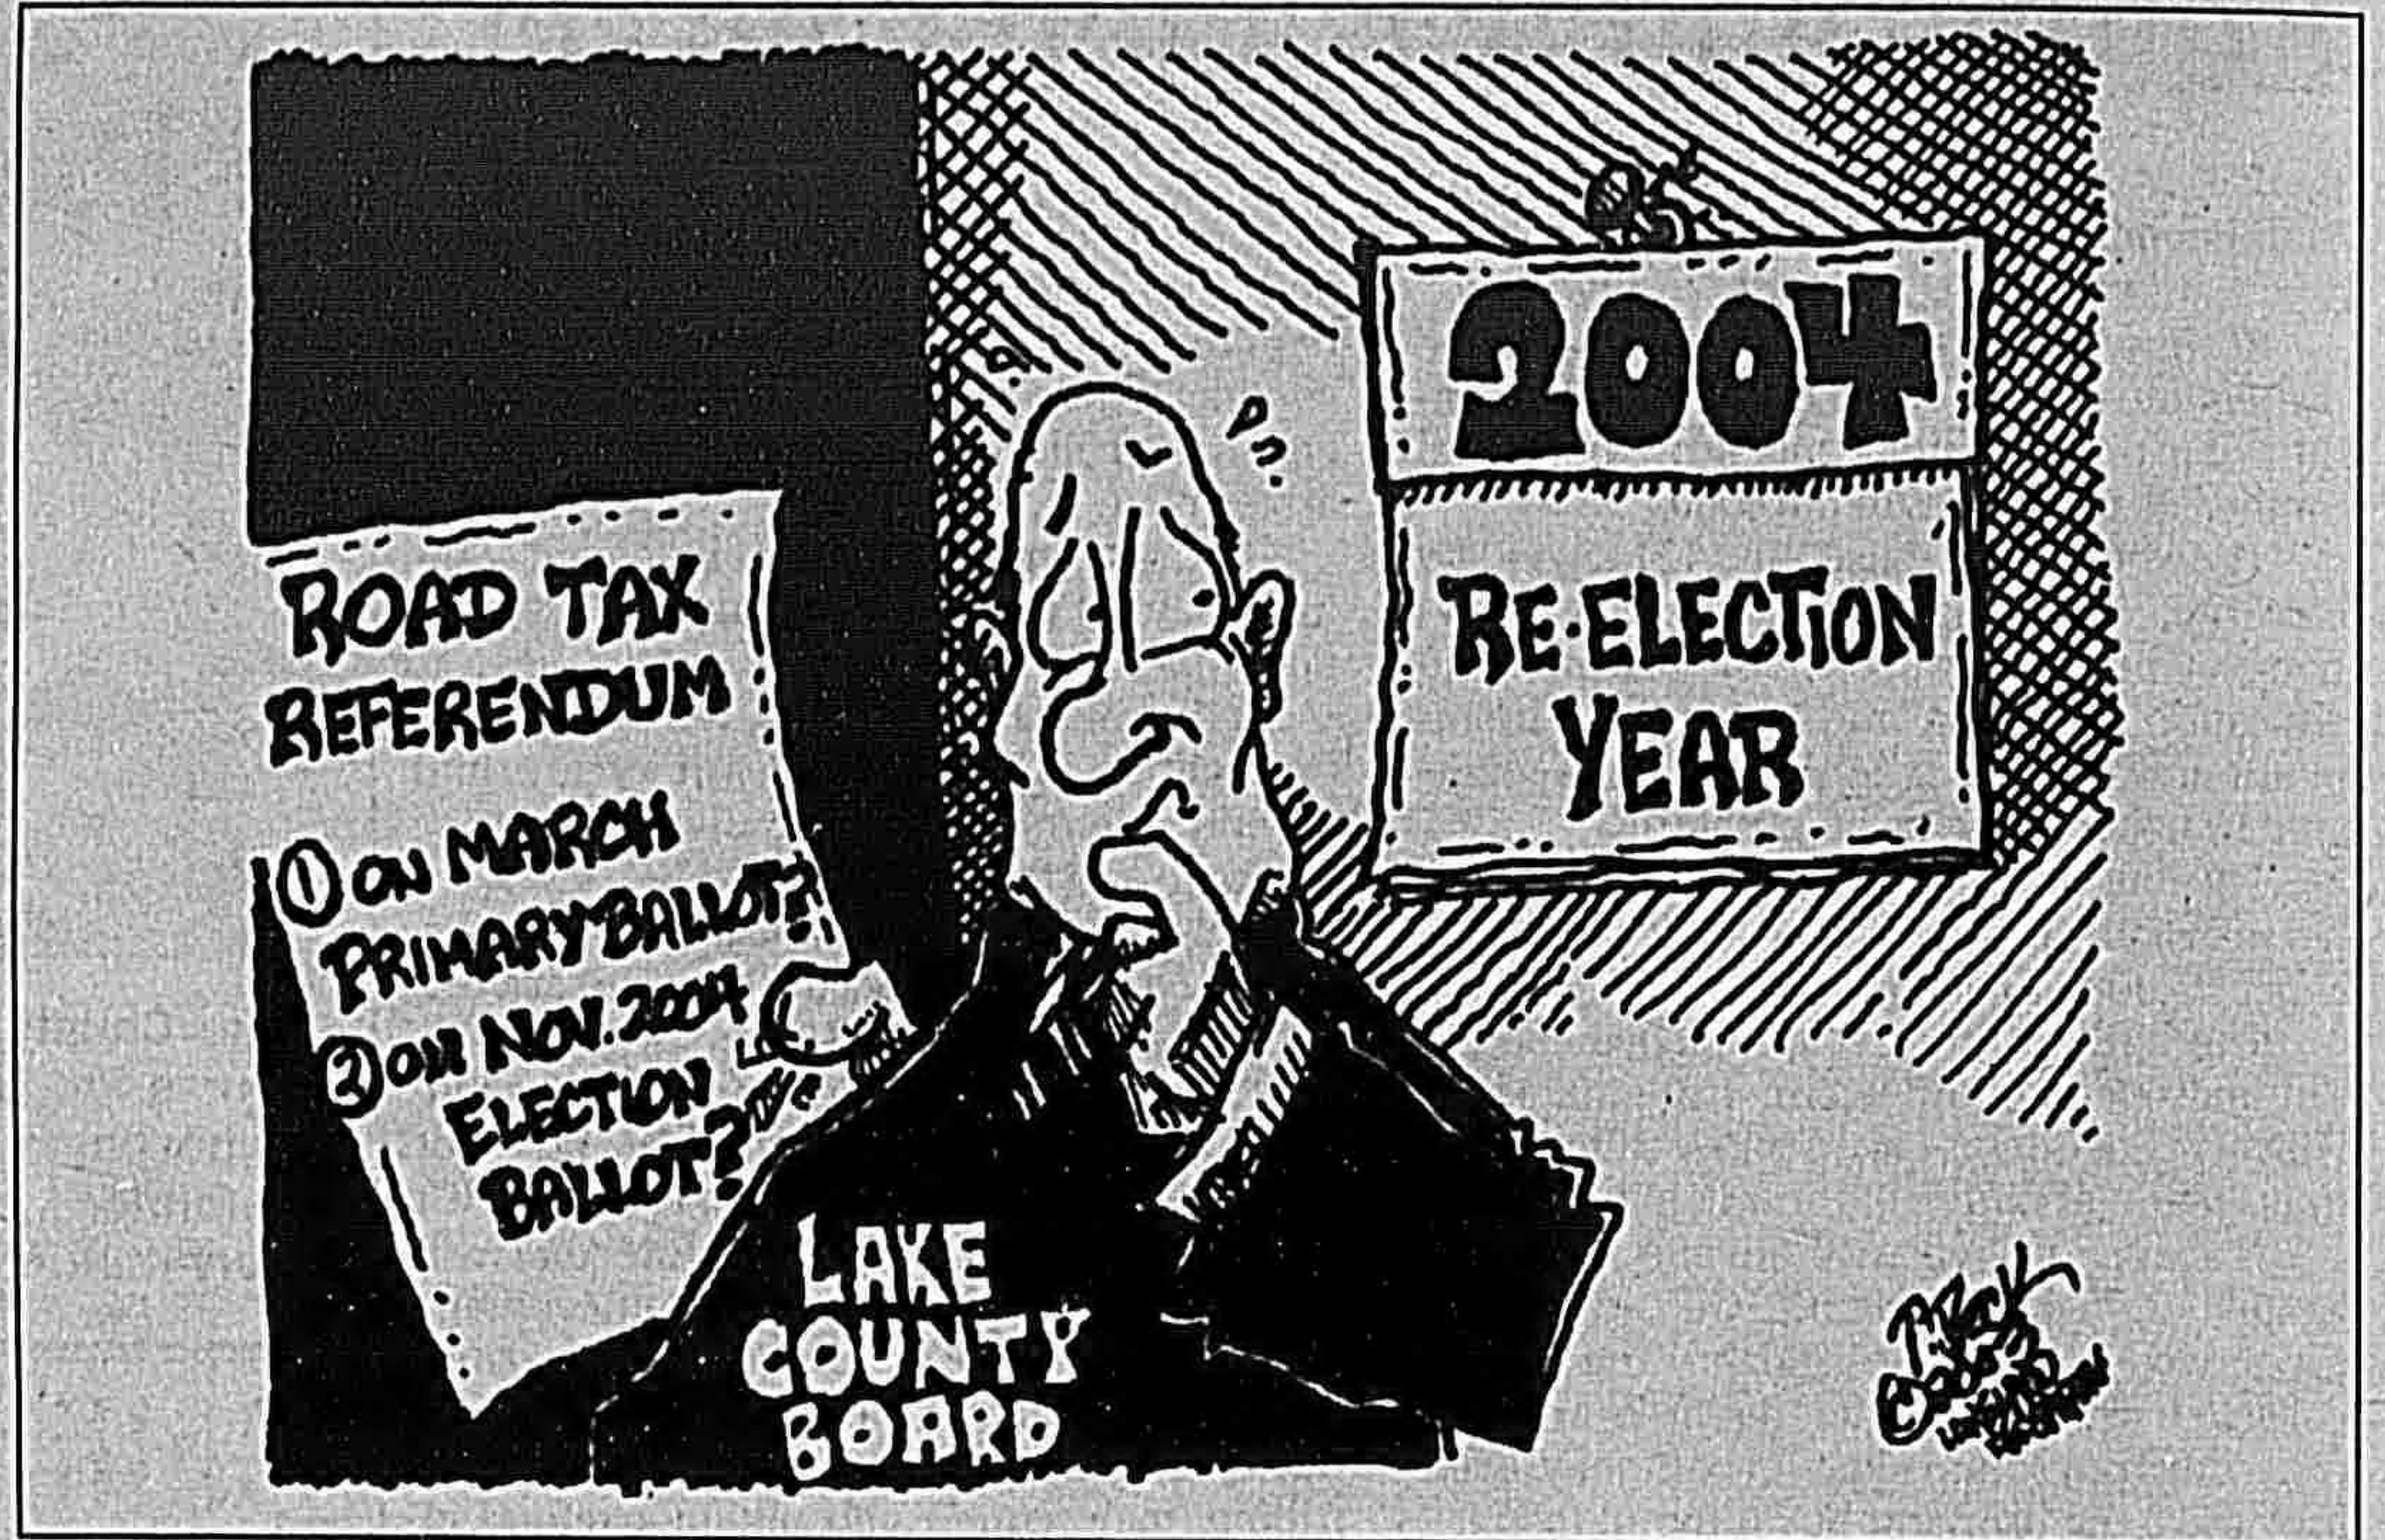

That same risk aversion doesn't seem to exist in other suburban areas, particularly Schaumburg, Lombard and Naperville where plans are unfolding for building meeting space that will compete with McCormick Place and downtown Chicago hotels.

Schaumburg is taking dead aim at McCormick Place with the development of a 387,000 square foot convention center. Both Lombard and Naperville have meeting facilities going up that will be incorporated with hotels in the 500-room range.

One of the driving forces behind suburban convention development is that costs are much lower. Room rates are less and parking costs aren't a factor. Set-up costs that approach extortion in Chicago are cheap by comparison in the suburbs. Chicago convention coordinators counter that attendees are willing to pay more to be nearer the city bright lights. Without question, downtown Chicago still is a big attraction for visitors.

Lake County holds its own for corporate meetings and smaller gatherings where large numbers of hotel rooms aren't a factor. The Lake County Convention and Tourism Bureau largely has focused on pleasure travel rather than business for obvious reasons. We've got an imposing array of tourist attractions, but no convention facilities.

What's intriguing about convention business is that it opens the door for a variety of jobs, an industry in itself. Maybe it's time to take a look at what the convention industry offers in the way of economic development.

VIEWPOINT

Top 10 sought for attendance

This sounds like a horse race where there are no losers. Everyone wins. PASS (Positive Alternative Student Services), a division of the Lake County Regional Office of Education, is running a competition between K-8 elementary schools in the 15th Annual Fall School Attendance Week running Monday, Sept. 29, through Friday, Oct. 3.

The 10 elementary schools with the best attendance next week will receive special recognition from Regional Supt. of Schools Roycealee Wood. Adler Park School of Libertyville is the defending champ with a 99 percent score last year. Runner up in 2002 and gunning for the title this year is Daniel Wright School, Lincolnshire, which had 98 percent attendance last year during "sweep" week.

Andrea Kowitz, an aide in the superintendent's office, said fun things are involved in the friendly competition. About a fourth of the county's 160 K-8 schools compete. Two years ago Antioch Upper Grade and Palombi School of Lake Villa engaged in an attendance challenge. The principal of the losing school got pasted with a pie in the face. That was J. Eric Skoog of Antioch, who sidestepped flying pies last year. Who's up for a challenge this year?

Small prizes will be offered in some of the schools. That's better than the outright bribery taking place in Chicago where high school kids can get tickets for sport events and concerts and discount coupons for clothes simply by showing up for class.

Secret of success

Dick Navarre may have hit on the secret of success for a small business. Don't worry about making a profit. Navarre is the proprietor of This Old Book, a store in downtown Grayslake devoted to both old and new books and what Dick lovingly refers to as "ephemera." (I looked that word up. Refers to stuff lasting only a day). A retired hospital administrator, Dick explains, "I'm not in this for the money. I love books. Funny thing, though, the store is profitable. This Old Book is doing great." Sporting a neatly trimmed white beard, Navarre says he has a simple goal: "I want to have the best book store between Chicago and Milwaukee." Navarre got into the main street location after selling books on the internet from his basement. "I got lonesome," he explains with a twinkle in his eye.

Real Marine meal

Ex-Leathernecks always know what the menu will be when they hold their annual breakfast get-together. It's SOS—stuff on a shingle. Real Marine Corps cooking. In charge of cooking for the 2003 event at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 8, will be retired Master Gunnery Sergeant Mike Speno of Round Lake Beach. After the hearty military meal served at Lake Villa VFW, long-time volunteer chairman Ken Grosvenor of Grayslake said the tall tales will fly. Ex-Marines have been holding their breakfast get-together for 20 years. Attendance is growing and is expected to exceed 200, according to Grosvenor, who can be reached at 847-223-2468 for details and a place in the chow line.

The difference is this

What's the difference between Richard Nixon and George W. Bush? Their economic policies are almost identical. Nixon had the largest expansion of federal domestic spending in U. S. history—even greater than "Great Society" Lyndon Baines Johnson. During Bush's first three years in office, discretionary, non-defense spending will rise 18 percent after inflation. If Bush's new "prescription drugs" benefit is enacted, it'd be the largest new 'entitlement since Medicare. Then Bush, not Nixon, would become the biggest domestic spender in U.S. history. Bush has already eclipsed the record once held by Jimmy Carter—the most pages in one year for new regulations in the Federal Register.

Nixon had his small tax cut, too. He let LBJ's "surcharge" on income taxes expire, but that small savings was eaten up by bracket creep as inflation pushed taxpayers into higher tax brackets. Bush's gimmicky cuts are going to be overwhelmed by state and local tax increases.

Rather than restrain spending and monetary policy, Nixon destroyed the 1944 Bretton Woods agreement and let the dollar "float"

(sink) against other currencies. The result was inflation and the highest U.S. bond rates in 100 years in 1974. Under Bush the dollar has already lost 20 percent against its chief rival, the Euro. Contrary to reports about "deflation," the Commodity Research Index of basic commodities has soared 35 percent the last two years. This summer the U.S. bond market had its fastest collapse in history, losing 15 percent of its value in six weeks.

Nixon inherited a war from a Democratic President and made it worse trying to win "on the cheap" with "Vietnamization." He started the policy of "Détente" which propped up the chief allies of North Vietnam, Russia and China. The result was a debacle that wasted the lives of over 50,000 Americans and let the communists kill millions more in South Viet Nam and Cambodia. Bush may have been forced to clean up the mess Bill Clinton made ignoring Muslim terrorism, but Bush made the situation worse by trying to win this war "on the cheap" going after minor sponsors of terror (Iraq and the Taliban) and not the real heavyweights—China, Pakistan, Iran and especially Saudi Arabia, the paymaster.

I see only three major differences between Bush and Nixon. Despite a Democratic Senate, Nixon fought for his judges even if he didn't get all of them approved. Bush and a Republican controlled Senate are letting Democrats filibuster Bush's judicial nominees, forcing an unconstitutional 60 percent approval vote. Under the limp-wristed Bush the Supreme Court has been allowed to make an outrageous ruling that more or less mandates "gay marriage" without a major protest. Under Nixon the judges didn't issue their equally outrageous abortion decision until after he was reelected.

The growth of jobs under Nixon was feeble, but it was there. Nixon also didn't allow millions of illegal aliens to stream into the country. Over 2.5 million jobs have been lost in Bush's term and his response is one sided "free trade" agreements and a proposal to make millions of illegal aliens new citizens, which will only encourage more illegal immigration.

The biggest difference between Nixon and Bush? Nixon won his second term election before his terrible economic and foreign policies caught up with him. There is no way

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Economy promise kept by Sullivan

Hardly breaking a sweat to economize, State Rep. Ed Sullivan Jr. (R-Mundelein) beat his goal by 50 percent in a campaign promise to reduce costs in the operation of his district office.

As a state representative, Sullivan's office was allotted $31,658 for his first six months in office. The return to state coffers of 15 percent savings was worth more than $5,000 to taxpayers.

Sullivan represents an area including Libertyville, Mundelein, Round Lake Park, Hawthorn Woods and Kildeer. District 51 also takes in parts of Long Grove, Deer Park and the east Barrington area.

The GOP freshman also serves as Fremont Township (Mundelein) assessor. The dual capacity was a campaign issue, but Sullivan deflected critics with the promise that he would not accept assessor pay while the General Assembly was in session.

Can't do that legally, Sullivan was advised, so he devised a charity to receive 66 days of assessor salary. The charitable organization will distribute back to Fremont citizens the assessor portion. "I had to take the pay, but I didn't have to keep it," declared the rising young Republican star. He also reimbursed the township for an insurance policy he receives as assessor.

Fighting rooftops

Wadsworth Mayor Ken Furlan is taking a leadership role in blocking Beach Park expansion and mega-builder Cambridge by controlling sanitary service. Furlan says up to 1,400 new homes, which would create overcrowding, can be stopped. He has lined up Zion, Lake County and the North Shore Sanitary District to stand firm against more rooftops.

Kissing babies or bottle feeding calves, it's all in a day's work for a politician as Illinois Treasurer Judy Baar Topinka shows at a meeting with farm youth.

Sullivan: Returning money to taxpayers after first session.

Newton: Puts friendship above ambition over state post.

Going for the ballot

Judge Victoria Rossetti is testing the political waters in her bid for election as circuit court judge. Her service in the judiciary has been through appointment, first in 1990 as an associate judge and then appointed a circuit judge last December. In 1997, she was named the first supervising judge for the 19th Circuit juvenile division. Judge Rossetti is a resident of Lake Forest.

Simonian steps up

Waukegan Atty. Steven Simonian took over as president of the Lake County Republican Federation at the annual meeting, succeeding Atty. Fred Forman of Gurnee, who served one term. State Sen. Adeline Geokaris (R-Zion) was presented the annual Robert Milton Award for long and meritorious service. Antonette Simonian, now a staffer at United Way, was presented a special service award. She formerly was executive director. The award was framed with personally written messages of appreciation from Congressman Phil Crane and Mark Kirk who were able to make the award in person.

New chief

Don Bero is Island Lake's new police chief, but he's no newcomer to the village. His background in law enforcement includes 25 years of service at suburban Broadview. He joined Island Lake's police department three years ago as a code enforcement officer. Chief Bero is establishing a strong community policing presence.

Likes county post

County Board Rep. Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills), frequently mentioned as a state representative candidate, won't be involved in the 2004 primary. "We have an excellent candidate," state Newton who is settling into a new position in child care in Wauconda. Newton wants no part of running against a long-time friend, State Rep. Kathy Ryg (Vernon Hills), who was Vernon Hills village clerk when Newton was a village trustee.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Pay teachers more

I've come to understand is that Woodland School District 50 is paying our beginning teachers a salary of approximately $27,000 per year. That would be approximately $5,600 less than Lake County's average for beginning teachers. The union has been asking for 11 percent for the next three years. Let's first make everyone educated to the fact that if they were to receive this increase, not every teacher or employee would receive that 11 percent increase. The negotiations involve caps of salaries so it could be that the majority could only see a personal increase of a few percent—it is not 11 percent across the board for all employees.

This 11 percent increase is to benefit the teachers that are on the low end of the scale. This 11 percent increase is to benefit the full-time hall monitor, librarian, teacher's aide or custodian that is only making $10,00 a year. If in fact that beginning teacher were to receive the full 11 percent salary increase, they'd only get a $3,300 raise the first year. Our new teachers would only be up to $30,000 per year, still close to $3,000 less than the county average. The second year, we'd finally meet the average. But wait, those other districts are awarding increases. That third year of increase would keep us even with the average. That is not going to make us the highest paid, it's keeping us out of the cellar.

My son has had two wonderful teachers who are only in their second and third year of teaching. They've been the best I could ever ask for my child, investing their time, energy and enthusiasm into him and his education. How can Woodland hope to draw new teachers into their fold, let alone keep them once they're there, if they can't offer our teachers a competitive package?

The old story of "teachers choosing this profession, receiving the three month summer vacation, working only nine months of the year, try working in the "real" world. It's all a myth of the past. I thank God for the people that are taking up this thankless profession.

Superintendent Dr. Conti, was awarded a 14 percent pay increase a couple of years back. Did the board or anyone else stand tall and steady against that increase? Not at all. It was a wonderful gift from our board to say thank-you.

The average administrative salary is over $90,000 a year. A couple of months ago, Mundelein School District actually cut three administrative positions from its district and reconfigured everyone's responsibilities to pick up the slack? What a novel idea. What could we do with that kind of excess money?

We do not have a poor school district. Our school board and administration has proven that fact repeatedly the past 10 years I've lived here and watched my taxes climb, buildings go up and administrative salaries climb. Now I'm asking them to take some of the money that has been spent so freely and give it to the remainder of the deserving employees of the district.

Feeding the needy

Why does Fremont Township Supervisor Pete Tekampe say there is no need for fresh produce for the needy in our township? The function of township government is to provide services for the needy, in addition to the elderly, and the youth. That is why townships have food pantries and provide emergency and general assistance.

Plant a Row for the Hungry is a fabulous program providing fresh produce the needy. More than half of the townships in Lake County participate in this program as drop-off sites for produce where people can come and pick up fresh produce as needed, but not Fremont Township.

Through this program, the needy have access to fresh produce, an important part of a healthy diet, but not in Fremont Township. Most people in Fremont Township do not know that access to food is a township service. Fremont Township do not know that access to food is a township service. Fremont Township Supervisor Pete Tekampe says that there is no need in Fremont Township to warrant participation in this program. How can that be?

Doing the job

I am grateful for President Bush's leadership during our times of challenge.

When our economy began to slide at the end of President Clinton's term, no one took action to reverse the downturn. After President Bush took office, he developed an economic plan to bring America back. With tax cuts in place, our economy is now beginning to recover.

After terrorists attacked the World Trade Center in 1991, bombed two American embassies and nearly sunk the USS Cole, President Clinton's response was symbolic and unimpressive. Since President Clinton failed to take real action against Al Qaeda and Osama Bin Laden, the terrorist network became emboldened and carried out the second attack against the World Trade Center in 2001.

After Sept. 11, President Bush responded differently from his predecessor. He carefully oversaw the military action that removed the Taliban from power in Afghanistan, and has denied Osama Bin Laden and Al Qaeda a valuable base of operations. Because of the decisive actions of President Bush, the terrorists responsible for murdering innocent Americans are now dead, imprisoned or on the run.

The crowning achievement for President Bush is the liberation of Iraq. Some of the President's critics actually seem to be upset that Saddam Hussein was removed from power. These are the same people that wanted to allow Saddam Hussein to continue to violate the cease fire of 1991, while looking the other way as he murdered his own people. It would have been pure recklessness to look the other way as Saddam Hussein worked to acquire weapons of mass destruction—the same type of recklessness that cause Sept. 11.

President Bush is getting the job done. I look forward to supporting the president's reelection to bring economic recovery to our country and the fight against terrorism to our enemies.

Live within means

I don't think Senator Link gets it. The governor vetoed his bill to weaken the Tax Cap legislation because the people have had enough property taxation.

He used all the buzz words—seniors, parks, pensions, health, safety, fire, pay raises, etc. Perhaps he doesn't realize that ever-increasing property taxes have cut severely into senior's retirement funds. Most homeowners and taxpayers only dream of the benefits or pension plans taxing bodies offer themselves. Many persons and businesses can no longer afford health benefits at all.

Fire, safety and handicap needs are part of every operational budget, public or private. I've been a mayor, school board member and chairman of a state agency. I am disturbed by the loop-holes Senator Link has so casually proposed. What is wrong at this particularly hard economic time of suggesting to taxing bodies that they live within their ever-increasing budgets?

Terry Link is a fine, caring human being. As I have stated publicly, Senator Link would in a heartbeat give the shirt off someone else's back through taxation. He means well, but should not be in government and in charge of our precious tax dollars.

William C. Dam MD

Self liberation

Howard Dean and John Kerry cannot have it both ways. Both Democratic presidential candidates have made statements that they support the removal of Saddam Hussein from power yet they believe President Bush was wrong to use military force to liberate Iraq. How could President Bush free Iraq and the Middle East from a brutal expansionist dictator?

Hussein was asked to leave Kuwait in 1990, only by force did he leave. The United States did not liberate Afghanistan or Iraq. We liberated ourselves from the tyranny of state-sponsored terrorism directed towards our country, military and civilian alike.

Either Democratic presidential candidates support the removal of Saddam Hussein, the butcher of Baghdad, or they support the failed ostrich "head in the sand" policy of looking the other way as terrorists and brutal dictators ignore international law, seek weapons of mass destruction, and plan new acts of terror against innocent civilians. Countries that harbor terrorists bent on attacking the people of the United States have already declared war on us. It is a silent declaration, more dangerous than any overt declaration or war that there has ever been.

The U.S. Marine Corps discovery of a Palestinian Liberation Front (PLF) training camp just south of Baghdad, and the capture of terrorist Abu Abbas, who had been living peacefully in Baghdad after murdering wheel chair bound Leon Klinghoffer during the hijacking of the Achille Lauro cruise ship, proved that Saddam Hussein was a supporter of terrorism. He asserts that responding to terrorist acts with force will cause more terrorism. Mr. Dean would take us back to the Clinton years, where the United States did little to respond to acts of terrorism. It was President Clinton's failure to respond to the terrorist bombing of two American embassies, the terrorist attack on the USS Cole, and the 1991 bombing of the World Trade Center that emboldened terrorists to plan and execute the 2001 destruction of the World Trade Center. Would Sept. 11 have occurred if President Clinton took the same type of decisive action against Al Qaeda in Afghanistan as President Bush has?

DIFFERENCE

Bush is going to "solve" our Middle East mess like Nixon "solved" Vietnam before the 1972 election. The Democrat opponent will be far stronger than the hapless George McGovern and our economy is far more vulnerable to foreign panic and debt collapse than the 1970s. Like his father, Bush will be another one term President because he ignored the lessons of the most successful Republican President in modern times. Ronald Reagan held the line on domestic spending and government regulations, cut taxes broadly and fought our enemies indirectly by cutting off their funding and weakening them internally with indigenous revolts.

George W. Bush may have a masters from Harvard and the smarts to fly a complicated jet. But his policies remind me of two other presidents with advanced degrees in engineering—Jimmy Carter and Herbert Hoover. As a Republican and an American I am not looking forward to the same sort of destruction they wrought on their parties and the U.S. economy

ADHD... What to do after the pill

Hi Dr. Singer,

We have a daughter who is nine years old. We recently put her on medication for ADD and while we've seen some symptom improvement for the distractibility, we haven't seen any actual forward movement in her skills or her work output in school. She is paying attention better, but she is still not absorbing as much as we would like to see her absorbing. For example, she still needs lots and lots of things taught to her over again after it is taught in school. She still does not finish her homework completely and she still freezes any time she is asked to show what she knows in a quiz, etc. Does this happening make sense to you? L.A.

Hi L.A.,

I have worked with many parents who have chosen medication and many who have not, to train their kids who are having problems with attention. The part that many parents seem to be missing is that the medication is not intended to fix all of the skills that have been in the "dark" while the child was not attending correctly. I will try to illustrate here with a somewhat extreme example. One that would not usually happen but for the purpose of explaining this, it will work. Let's say a child has been trying to absorb information in the classroom with one eye closed and one ear shut off. Let's say this has been happening for years but people weren't aware of the fact that this was the case. At some point, people become aware of the limitation the child has and the child is then treated for the eye being closed and the ear being closed. Now, the child has full use of both eyes and both ears. The people who treated him to get the eye and ear open might think that just the opening of the eye and the opening of the ear would be enough to put the kid on track at a point where the kid could maintain. Nothing could be further from the truth. All of those years that child functioned with one eye and one ear, the child was getting used to that as a way of life. He was also not practicing the skills of absorbing and listening and remembering. All of those skills were not being developed during that time. His learning habits were formed around these weaknesses and the weaknesses became a habit. Habits don't go away with medication. Symptoms might, but a habit has to be trained away to change. If that child learned that looking at the board was stressful and the habit became looking away, that is the habit that will continue, until the habit is practiced the other way. The right way. So, while the medication may provide some symptom relief, the habits that developed during the time the child was not at full functioning will still need to be trained correctly to get the child to a place of comfortable functioning and success.

PARENT'S PLACE

Another thing that I find happens to a lot of the kids I work with, is that once that eye and ear are open and the full information comes at them, they get overloaded and shut down, so in essence they are still not absorbing the full information. I call this "Deer in the headlights syndrome." They freeze when too much comes at them at once because simply, they are not used to it and they need to be made used to it. Another good comparison would be a person who (hopefully no one ever has this happen) is in a closet for a long time and gets used to the darkness and then suddenly they are taken out and exposed to extreme sunlight. They would probably flip out and hide. The best way to expose someone who has been shut off in certain ways for long periods of time, is slowly and with new habit training so that the person can feel confident about the new things they are taking on.

What I am saying is that even though you might be seeing the medication controlling some symptoms, the habits that were formed around the limitations still exist and will exist until they are taken on and trained the right way. Those habits can be behavioral, in the case of kids who have gotten so frustrated over not getting anywhere and they start to act out. The habits can be emotional, in the case of kids who become so frustrated and turn it inward or become depressed or anxious. The habits can be very destructive, as in the case of the kid who is tired of "banging his head on the wall" and getting no where. He gives up and just sits there and goes nowhere and becomes apathetic. The bottom line is always the same, whether parents have chosen to medicate or not, the habits must be changed in order to make the child whole and make the educational experience one of success and not pain and failure. We have changed the habits over and over again!

Additionally, all parents I have met who have done nothing but medicate all share another thing in common, and that is the having to catch the child up for all of the missed material. We're usually talking about years and years of missed material. No wonder these parents and kids are so frustrated. Some parents go with tutoring to do this. Now, while tutoring is not a bad thing and I have recommended it many times, it is too soon at this stage to do tutoring. When a child has just begun absorbing everything, their basic processing skills need to be improved before anything academic is trained. Processing skills are things like multi-tasking, auditory memory (the ability to remember verbal directions), processing speed, visual memory. These are things that tutoring does not train. Once the basic skills are better, tutoring is fantastic.

There are two steps to making attention right. Not one. The parent's choice to medicate or not and then the training of the missed and lost skills. No one is going to get smarter or get an edge on education from only taking medication. I have never seen that happen. Working those skills and making them where they should be and giving the child the confidence through that training. That is what truly creates the forward movement and the independence of learning and the love of learning. When it isn't scary anymore and it isn't intimidating to the child and they know they can take on new, hard things, not just because they are on medication but because they have practiced the right kinds of skills. That is the place that any parent wants to see their child go to!

Bones can only go so far!

Dear Marlene, Ph.D.,

I read your letter in response to my column where I indicated the potential dangers associated with the practice of yoga. With respect to your education and experience with the subject, I really think we're not that far off the same page. My argument is not about yoga's obvious benefits through meditation and relaxation. My critical focus is on its unnatural stretching positions where the body is forced to extend beyond its natural limits. Muscles, bones, tendons and ligaments are pushed far beyond where they were ever intended to go. The end result: abnormal demands are put on the neck, back, hips, legs, ankles, feet... that too often can result in strains; it can even cause severe stress on the vascular system, cutting off blood circulation that can potentially lead to a stroke. Kinda' scary, isn't it? I interviewed Bob Gajda last week. I gave him a copy of your letter. Bob has been the impetus for two of my previous articles: "Are you stretching your way to injury?" and "How harmful is yoga?" Both interrelated aspects have become a poignant part of the modern flexibility craze of our nation.

With a BS degree in Physiology, an MS in Exercise Physiology and a Ph.D. in biomechanics, Bob Gajda, a registered Kinesiotherapist, who has also has earned the Triple Crown title of Mr. America, Mr. U.S.A., and Mr. Universe (rather amazing), comes with such a lengthy list of both intellectual and physical accomplishments, that to mention all of them would fill up the entire space allotted for my column. As an author, sports equipment inventor and executive director for over 25 years of the Health Plus Network in East Dundee and Palatine, you need to realize this guy has some serious credentials-not exactly the norm-he's not to be taken lightly.

Bob gave me one of his publications, where he draws a comparison between natural stretching-when we wake up in the morning-when we start moving after being in a rested position-to the unnatural stretching of modern yoga positions and that which athletes are being motivated to do. Everybody is being told to "stretch." People are told to take a position, hold it, take some deep breaths, and work "into" the stretch. When the muscle starts "crying out" for the person to stop

ON CALL

Day Simon

The Yoga Plow: This position can pinch off one of the essential arteries in the neck, causing a possible stroke. It is also devastating to the lower back muscles and ligaments.

"stretching," the athlete is motivated to continue because the pain is due to tight muscles. The pain during typical stretching is due to a tightening of the muscle because it doesn't want to be passively stretched beyond a certain degree. 'Stretching' this way is unnatural."

The main point he makes is that we are being lead to believe that this "unnatural stretching" is good for us-that it "prevents injuries, relieves soreness, increases range of movement, warms up the muscle, and improves performance," all the while with "no real evidence that it does these things." Gajda backs up his case with various studies that show no athletic performance improvement as a result of stretching exercises with an accompanying increase in injury rate for "stretchers" versus "non-stretchers."

Now, in response to your letter, Marlene, where you espouse the benefits of yoga, Bob agrees with you. "Yoga's real purpose is 'enlightenment.'" However, that which he questions is, "How do some of these positions improve body tone? Bob contends, "Yoga leads to ligament laxity in critical areas of the body-knees, low back, cervical vertebrae. The yoga plow is one of the most dangerous positions. It can pinch off blood vessels and cause a stroke. The bottom line is that bones can only go so far."

FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY 2003
(Touchdowns Only!!!)

Fantasy Football season is here again! For many Lakeland readers, the very thought sends their hearts racing. But for others, the question may be, "What is fantasy Football?"

One of the most popular games across the country, fantasy Football comes in many different forms, with each allowing football fans to draft their "own" team every Sunday afternoon and/or Monday/Thursday night.

Lakeland Newspapers began their league 3 years ago. This year the following rules apply: readers must pick one quarterback, two running backs and two wide receivers and a tightend. Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly counts only touchdowns.

Your team is good for one month and one month only. Entries must be post marked by the last day of the previous month in order to enter the next month's contest. For example, September 30 is the last day to enter the October contest. You must re-enter each month. after the last game of the month is played the total amount of touchdowns scored by your six players is counted and whichever reader has the most total touchdowns wins. In the event of a tie, Lakeland will count the touchdowns of the candidate's "write-in" players. One entry per person. Winner will be mailed a check for $100.

Lakeland Newspapers will publish a fantasy Football column each week tips and player news. Don't forget that schedule plays a big role in which players choose. Just because someone may be the league's best player, does not necessarily mean that they will be the best player that month. And don't forget the bye weeks.

Good luck and get those entries in.

Corsairs crush Notre Dame

By ROB BACKUS
Sports Editor

With the exception of a 49-13 win over Notre Dame in 2001, the last 15 times that Carmel and the Dons have hooked up, the games were decided by 15 points or less.

Time to add another exception to the rivalry.

After jumping out to a 31-0 lead in the second quarter, Carmel went on to crush Notre Dame 45-19 in the Corsairs' Homecoming game.

"We've taken control the last two weeks," Carmel coach Andy Bitto said. "If we can keep doing that, we'll win some games."

Carmel's running attack led the way once again, as the Corsairs racked up 309 yards on the ground against Notre Dame, led by Mark Venegoni's 134 yards and three TDs. Mike Serio and Jon Popovitch also added first half runs.

Venegoni also had a strong game through the air, connecting on 7-of-11 passes for 172 yards and a 49-yard TD pass to Chris Miller (4 catches, 112 yards).

Even offensive lineman Dan Osterhaut got into the act, gaining 12 yards after a fumble recovery in the second quarter.

One of the key plays happened early in the second quarter as Venegoni appeared to throw an interception in the red zone, which was returned to the Notre Dame 40. However, the Dons were flagged for a pass interference penalty, allowing the Corsairs to keep the ball.

A 28-yard field goal from Miller put Carmel up 10-0 and they never looked back.

"With a team like Notre Dame, you have to get on them early," Bitto said. "Getting that field goal was key. Then they had to score twice just to catch up. It's hard to score 21 against our defense, let alone 32 in one half, which is what they would have needed to catch us."

Carmel's defense took over in the second and third quarters, led by Pat Kimener, who had 8 tackles, a blocked punt and a blocked extra point, his 3rd and 4th blocks on the season.

"We had the ball for over 60 plays," Bitto said. "Our defense hasn't been out there much the last two games."

Up next for Carmel is an 0-4 St. Joe's squad in Westchester on Sept. 27 at 1 p.m.

Boys soccer

Yared Ogunaro's second-half goal was the difference as Carmel downed Marian Catholic 1-0 in an East Suburban Catholic Conference soccer match.

"It was from a corner kick by Chris Fidlow," said CHS coach Chris Rudolph.

Ogunaro is a junior for the Corsairs.

Carmel then held off Marian to secure its eighth win, 8-1-2 overall.

"Slowly but surely, we are starting to play better," Rudolph said. "Our defense has played well. Doug Fitzgerald plays a solid sweeper."

Girls volleyball

Carmel High School girls volleyball coach Jon Baffico liked the progress that he saw from his squad at the Evanston Invitational.

A 4-1 record gave the Corsairs runner-up honors to St. Ignatius.

"We passed the ball and played better defense. We played better volleyball as a unit. St. Ignatius was the best team that we have seen and we played our best against them," Baffico said.

Carmel is at the Warren Invite on Sept. 27.

At Evanston, Senior outside hitter Michelle Miramonti continued her steady play. She was 64-80 in attacks with 42 kills and had 25-27 passing with 10 digs.

Abby Sup, a junior, was 30-31 in attacks with 15 kills. Junior Jill Scudder had 24-33 in attacks with 11 kills and had three solo blocks and six assists. Megan Krizman was 35-45 with 11 kills she also had three solo and nine block assists.

Miramonti was 46-50 serving with 10 aces and Dani Walker was 44-52 with seven aces.

Jessica LeClaire had 69 assists, 11 kills and 16 digs.

Carmel beat North Shore Country Day 25-9, 25-6; beat Evanston 25-21, 25-9; beat Leyden 25-18, 25-20 and beat East Aurora 25-11, 25-8. St. Ignatius won the final match 21-25, 25-16-14.

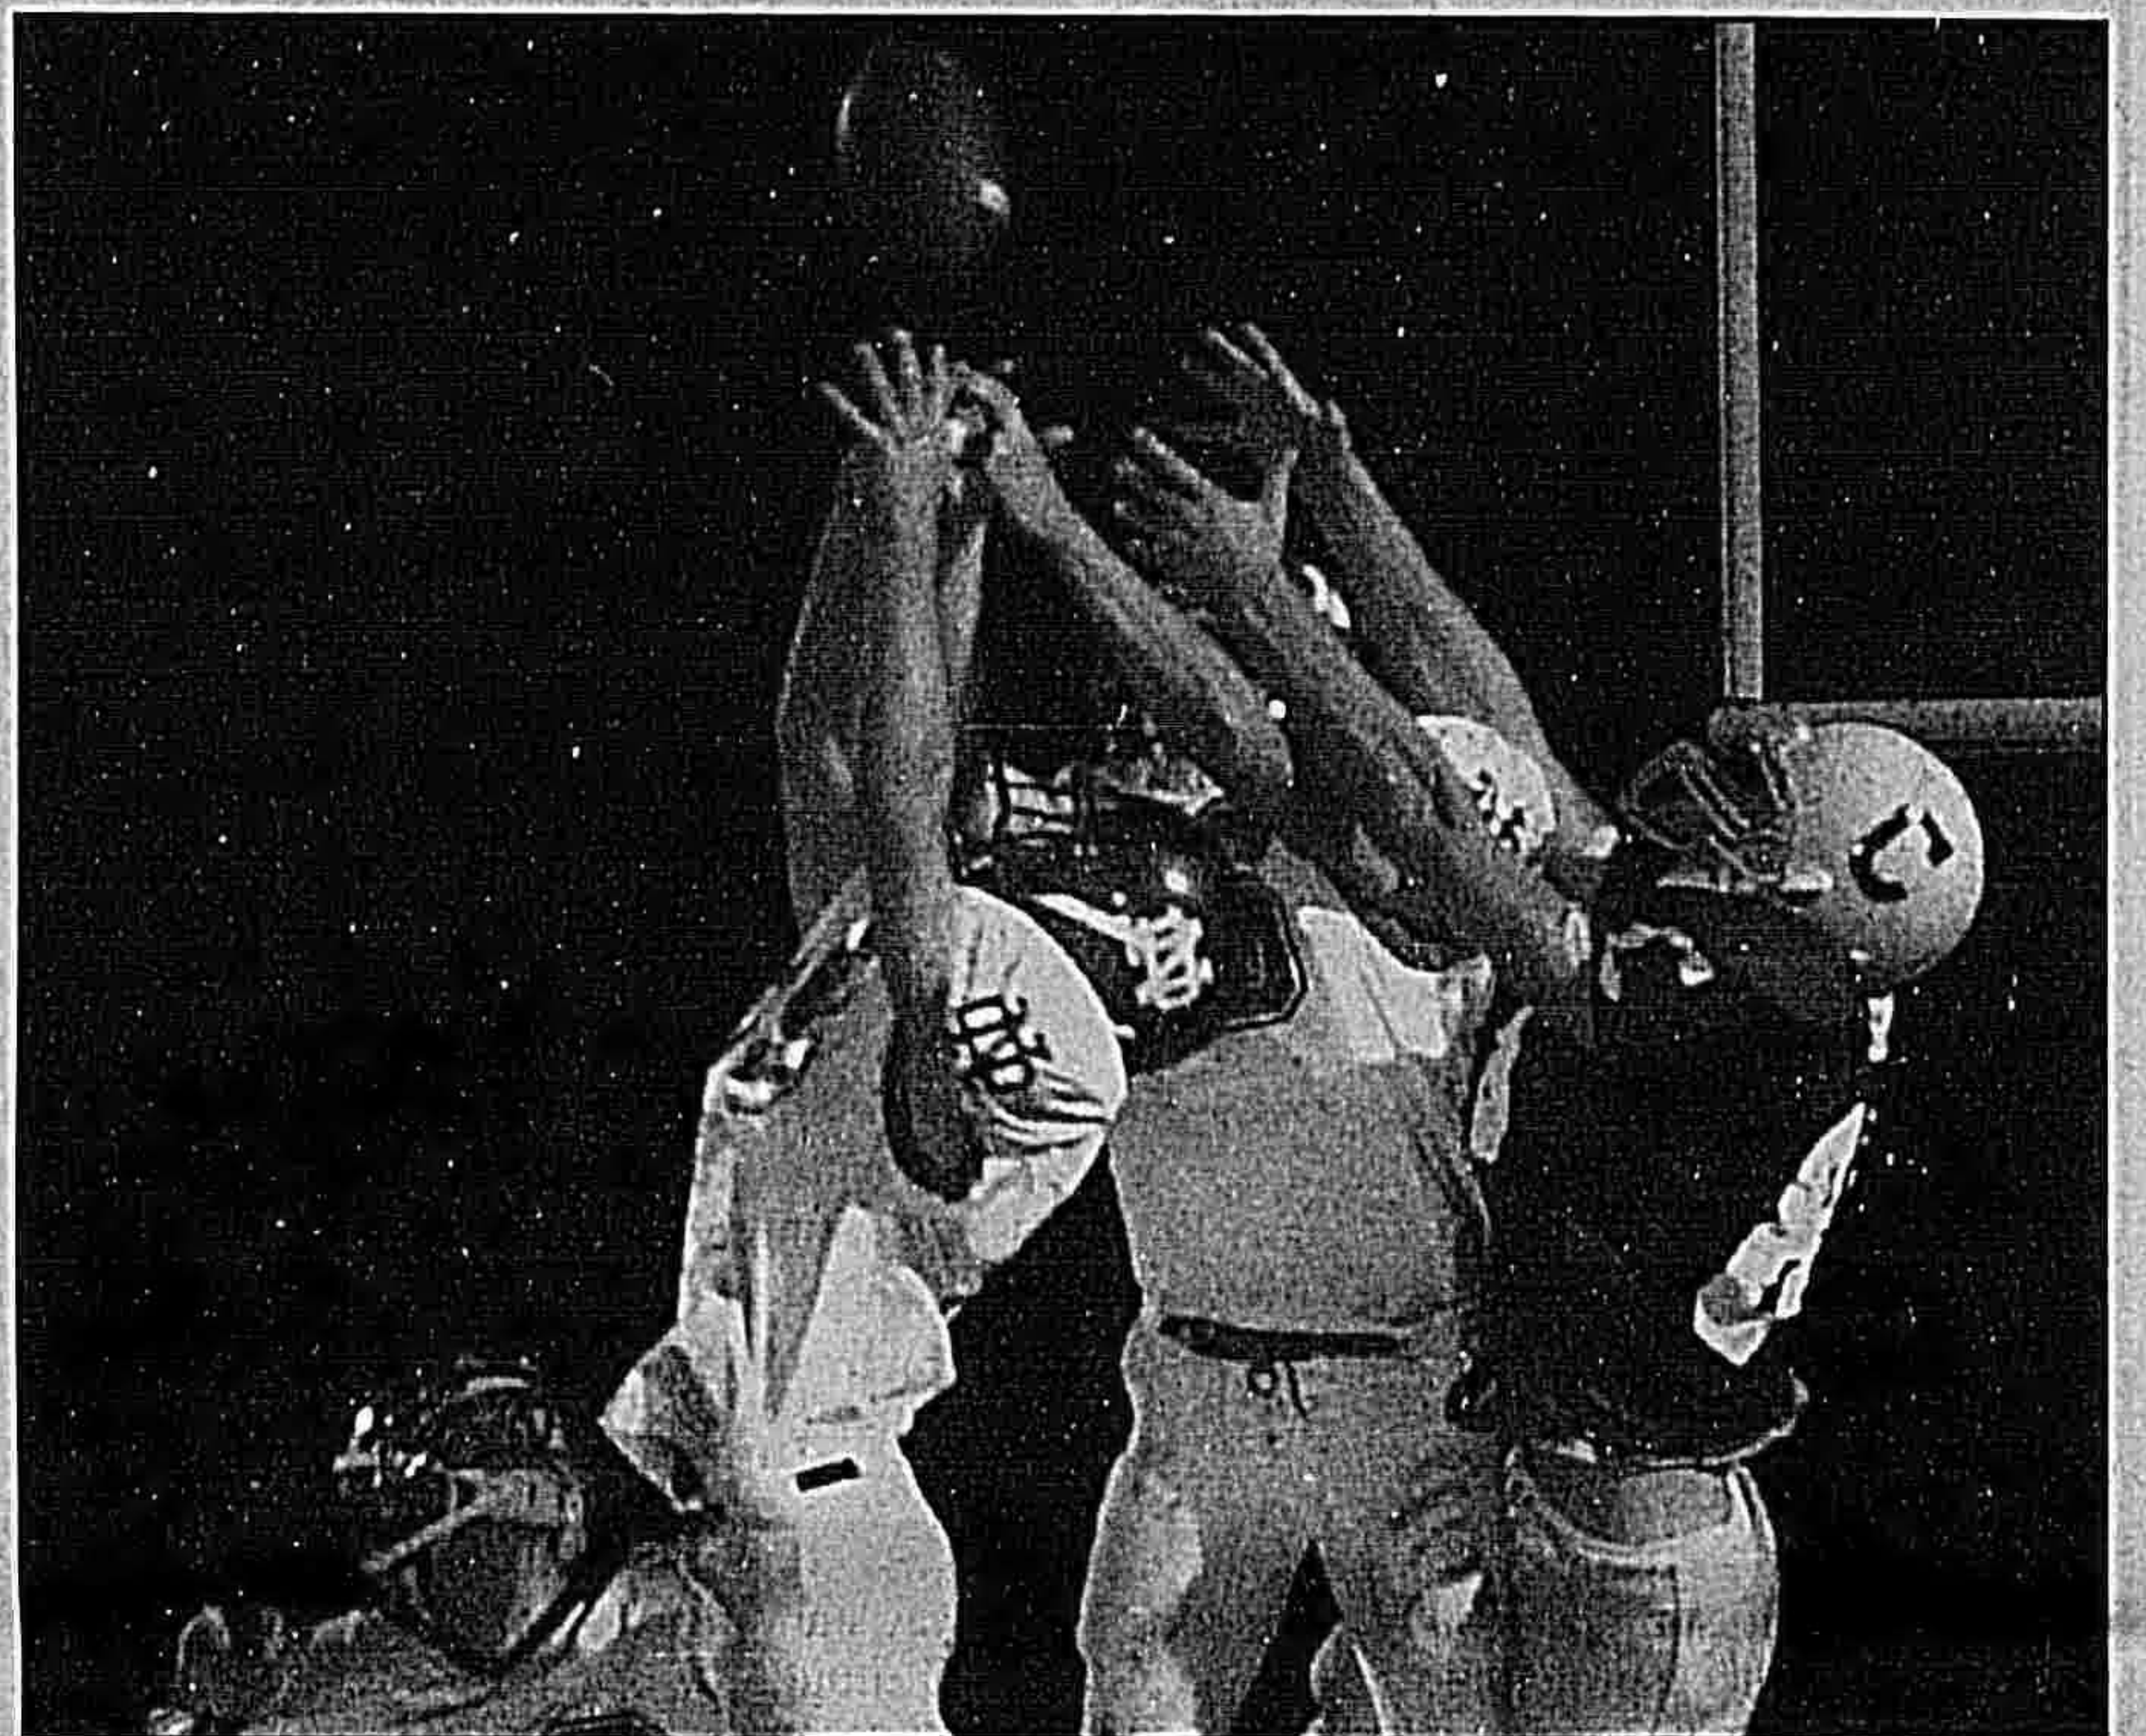

"We were up 14-12 in the third game, but could not close it out," Baffico said of the final.

Carmel stands at 10-5-1.

CLC spikers take Lake County Invite

By ROB BACKUS
Sports Editor

Keep these numbers in mind: 1986. That's the last time a CLC women's volleyball team won a Skyway Conference title.

Before the season CLC head coach Bob Taterka thought that a Skyway Conference title was certainly a possibility.

While that didn't seem likely at the time, especially considering that the team was coming off a 7-27 season.

Although there is still a lot of time left in the season, that slim possibility is looking more and more like a probability.

"(Former CLC women's volleyball coach Sue) Garcia had some good teams in the 1990s," Taterka said. "But this is the best team CLC has had in a while."

The Lady Lancers appear to be hitting their stride at the right time, winning the Lake County Invite for the first time this past weekend.

In pool play, CLC defeated DuPage 30-23, 30-13, Sauk Valley 30-15, 30-24 and South Suburban 30-18, 30-25.

In the semi-finals CLC topped Carthage 30-26, 30-27 and the Lancers beat Kankakee in the finals 30-21, 30-26.

The win over Kankakee was perhaps the biggest win for CLC in almost a decade as Kankakee came in unbeaten with a 25-0 record and were the No. 1 ranked team in NJCAA Div. II.

"The kids are playing with a tremendous amount of confidence right now," Taterka said. "We're still getting better and we know how good we can be. We're really clicking right now."

Erin Whitehead (43 kills, 12 aces) and Lindsay Gruber (35 kills, 12 aces) were named to the All-Tournament team.

Sarah Campbell (29 kills, 8 aces), Jenny

Hein (26 kills, 13 blocks) and Jodi Mergenthaler (98 assists) also had good tournaments.

"We could have easily had four players on the All-Tournament team," Taterka said. "And Jenny Hein really came into her own."

Not suffering a letdown in the least, CLC defeated Moraine Valley in a hard-fought, five game match 22-30, 23-30, 30-23, 30-18, 15-8.

The win improved CLC's record to 14-5 overall and 3-0 in the Skyway. Since Moraine Valley was the only other unbeaten team in conference, the Lancers now sit alone atop the Skyway standings.

"I thought it would be interesting to see how the team would avoid a letdown," Taterka said. "But we picked up right where we left off."

Whitehead (19 kills, 2 aces), Hein (11 kills, 3 blocks), Gruber (15 kills), Campbell (12 kills) and Mergenthaler (54 assists, 6 aces) once again led the Lancers.

CLC will next compete in the Harper Tourney on Sept. 27.

Men's soccer

CLC fell to 3-5-1 overall with a 2-0 loss to Elgin.

Several midfield mistakes early led to Elgin's first goal just minutes into the game.

The Lancers then battled back to take control of the contest and had several opportunities to tie the game in the first half, but were unable to capitalize on any of them.

To make matters worse, CLC midfielder Austin Yarc was ejected at the start of the second half on a flagrant tackle.

"The ref overreacted to the play," CLC coach Rodolfo Ruiz-Velasco said. "We lost control of the game after that. We had our chances to come back and the kids hustled and did their best."

CLC will host Danville on Sept. 25 at 4 p.m.

Free Report Reveals Amazing Alternative To Low Paying CDs And Risky Stock Market! Find Out What Your Banker And Broker Don't Want You To Know!

Fairfax, VA—She was simply stunned to hear what her banker told her. "I'm really sorry Elizabeth, but I can't do any better than 1.5% on that CD. If you want to tie it up for 10 years, I can get you a little over 2.5%, but that's it." Lousy 2% On CDs! What's She Going To Do? Elizabeth felt betrayed. After all, she had been putting her savings in this bank for 17 years. And now that Frank was no longer here, she had to take care of everything herself.

It frightened her to have to deal with taxes and paying bills, and trying to figure out things like refinancing her house. All that was tough enough, but then watching her monthly income sink like a brick in the water was the last straw.

"He didn't even care that we had been such loyal customers all these years," thought Elizabeth.

There Is Nothing The Banker Can Do.

"I asked him why I was still paying 15.5% on my credit card balances, when he was only willing to pay me a little better than 2% on my savings. It made me real sad to hear him say that there was nothing he could do."

As she stepped into her home, she was reminded of Frank everywhere she looked. "What would he do?" she said to no one in particular.

Elizabeth then opened the mail and saw the statement from her stock brokerage house. She was afraid to open it because the market had been on such a roller coaster ride that she knew her accounts were likely to be down. Again.

Her Stock Accounts Went Down...Again!

Sure enough, when she saw the balance of her IRA and mutual fund accounts, she got a sick feeling in the pit of her stomach. Elizabeth had to sit down and gather herself, staring at the unbelievable amount of money her accounts had lost, even worse than before!

She started to cry. She said out loud to no one in particular, "I've lost over 30% of my retirement money in this ridiculously risky market? I should have known better." Then Elizabeth felt a chill go through her as if she had been pierced with an ice pick in her soul. "Oh my god. What would Frank have said if he knew I had put so much cash, the money he had worked so hard for...into a casino like the stock market? He would be so mad..." Elizabeth's mind trailed off, as she cried some more. How badly she felt for herself, and for Frank.

The Answer Revealed Itself To Her!

When Elizabeth sat down to read the paper, she saw an article that got her curious, and she sent for a report that was commented on in the article.

The article said there are alternatives to CDs and mutual funds that most people didn't know about. Alternatives that were low risk, but had the benefit of a potential higher return...and tax benefits to boot!

Elizabeth called the toll-free, recorded message and requested her copy of this free report. She was hoping this was the answer she had been seeking.

A couple of days later, she she opened the mail. She was excited to see the free report had arrived. Elizabeth made herself a cup of tea and sat down at their kitchen table to take in all the information in the report.

When she finished reading, she felt comfortable for the first time since Frank passed away. She had finally learned the little known alternative to CDs her banker and broker had never told her.

FREE Report Reveals Little Known Alternative!

A copy of the FREE REPORT is available by calling 1-800-572-7185, 24 hours, for a FREE RECORDED MESSAGE! Why not call NOW and get your free copy of this shocking and eye opening report? If you are sick of your 1.5-2.5% CDs earning such paltry interest, and are rightfully scared of the crazy and risky stock market...the answer to your frustrations is contained in this free report. Call NOW, while this is fresh on your mind! What have you got to lose? The call, recorded message and report are free! Waiting won't help you, so pick up the phone NOW!

Conservation grants

The Soil and Water Conservation District of Lake County has announced their annual Conservation Grant Program offered to Lake County schools and other youth groups.

The board is taking applications to fund as many projects as possible. All applications are due by Nov. 28. The award period is Jan. 15, 2004. The board selects which project(s) to sponsor.

Groups that fund projects with fees for attendance, such as summer camps, are not eligible. The open house is for those either interested in the every-third-weekend program or the traditional weekday program. Prospective students will have an opportunity to meet with a counselor, a financial aid advisor and sit in on a class.

Although founded in 1853, Shimer became a part of Waukegan when it moved there in 1979 from Mt. Carroll. Shimer is one of the few colleges in the U.S. with a curriculum based on original writings sometimes known as the Great Books. Classes never have more than 12 students and are always discussion classes.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Take charge of an important business situation this week, Aries. You certainly are up to the challenge. The higher-ups will be impressed with your efforts and are sure to reward you. That special someone has a surprise for you on Friday. Enjoy, because you deserve it.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

You need to spice up your life a little this week, Taurus. Don't do the same thing every day. Instead, try something new. Not only will it make you feel better, but it also will help you come out of your shell a little bit. You'll be surprised at how this will enhance your personal life. Libra plays an important role on Wednesday.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

A mistake by an acquaintance gets you into hot water early in the week. Don't accept responsibility for something that you didn't do. Instead, explain the situation calmly and logically. You're sure to get people on your side. A close friend takes you out on Friday. Enjoy yourself.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Don't wear your heart on your sleeve when you meet an interesting person on Monday. Showing your feelings right away will scare him or her off. Take this one step at a time. Just be yourself, and you're sure to make a good impression. A loved one needs a shoulder to cry on. Be there for him or her. Scorpio plays a key role.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Be careful when talking with business associates early in the week. A disgruntled co-worker could take something that you say the wrong way and go to the higher-ups. Watch your step, because you don't want to get in trouble for no reason. Capricorn plays an important role.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

A lot of people are depending on you to complete an important project this week, Virgo. Don't let them down. You have to stay focused on the task at hand and not let anyone distract you. That's the only way to make progress. Don't worry — things will calm down by the end of the week. Then, you'll have plenty of time to relax.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

While you would much rather be the leader than the follower, that won't be the case with a family situation early in the week. Let someone who knows how to handle the problem take control. Your best bet is to pay attention and learn a thing or two.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

A friend turns to you with a personal problem. However, he or she is telling you this in confidence. So, keep everything that's said to yourself. It's not your place to spread this around. A loved one demands your attention late in the week. Spend time with him or her. It definitely will be worth it. Pisces plays a key role.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

You really put your foot in your mouth when meeting with an important person on Monday. Instead of trying to talk your way out of this mess, just explain what you mean. It's the best way to redeem yourself in this person's eyes. That special someone has a surprise for you. Enjoy!

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't get upset with a loved one who gets you involved in a messy family situation. This person doesn't mean to put you in the middle. However, now that you're there, try to help everyone involved come to an understanding. While it will be difficult, you can do it. Your efforts definitely will be appreciated.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't be hurt when a close friend cancels plans with you on Tuesday. It has nothing to do with you. This person just has a lot to deal with, and he or she is feeling a little overwhelmed. Give him or her some space. A loved one needs your advice about a personal matter. Be honest with him or her.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Everyone seems to turn to you for advice this week, Pisces. Don't get upset. Instead, be flattered that so many people respect your opinions. Looking at it this way will make it a lot easier to deal with the attention.

Job Search Flexibility
 By Scott T. Fleischmann, provided by Integrity Business Solutions

Employers are always looking for the best employees. When the economy is strong, organizations will hire the people they need regardless of how well that person meets the ideal candidate criteria. But, during an economic downturn, they are willing to hire only the closest matches.
 These truths require that job seekers use different approaches depending on the state of the economy. Those who want to work need to be more flexible during slowdowns, like the current recession. Let's look at some of the areas where flexibility is important to employers.

Work Hours - Some companies have specific needs for employees to occasionally change the normal work schedule. The retail industry is an example. When there are many people available to fill the available positions, those who can be the most flexible with work schedules will get the jobs. In addition, many organizations like employees who can work overtime. Some may require extensive overtime, others may require only a few occasional extra hours. Some want people who are willing to accept fewer hours during times of slow sales.

Task Variance - Those who have been in a profession or trade for a longer period of time often want to focus their efforts in that area.
 However, during slowdowns, some companies like employees who are willing to do tasks that are outside of that skill set. This is especially true of smaller organizations. My father is an excellent builder of anything.
 He worked in a factory most of his life, doing welding, electrical wiring, plumbing, mechanical design and testing for a small Midwest company.
 But I remember a few years that were slow for that company. The management team did not believe in layoffs, but the sales did not justify full staffing. They asked these skilled people to sweep floors, paint the plant and to do other work until sales increased. Most of them wanted to keep their jobs so they consented. Others decided to leave. In my opinion, those who left lost an opportunity to work for managers who were dedicated to their employees. Unfortunately, those managers also lost highly skilled workers.

Personal Flexibility - I once worked for a company where a consultant in a technical area was recognized as having solid sales skills. As a consultant, he did not need to be concerned with his image. However, most consulting companies maintain a conservative image. His dress and demeanor were more hip and trendy. Then he was offered the sales job.
 He knew that he would be expected to maintain a more conservative image. Subsequently, he refused the promotion and the additional compensation. Those who want a job in this recession may want to adjust their personal image to that of the company for which they want to work.
 Earrings, tattoos, facial hair, and the clothes worn in the work environment all contribute to that image.

Many people can not offer flexibility to an employer; for example, single parents often have commitments to pick up children from day care.
 Others have personal reasons to be less pliant. Each candidate must decide where to be flexible and where to hold strong. However, those who are willing to make some concessions are more likely to get that next job.

Pet OF THE WEEK

POSEY

Hi, my name is Posey and I'm a loving little beagle mix, just under a year and extremely affectionate. I'm considered by most to be the perfect family pooch because I'm medium size with a short haired coat and wonderful soulful eyes that will melt your heart. I can't have any puppies, but I'm up to date with my inoculations and am ready to charm a new house. To adopt me, call the Assisi Animal Foundation at 815-455-9411.

Lindenhurst Park District's annual Haunted Trail is a walk through a series of scary scenes, portrayed by park district volunteers. The bonfire starts at dusk, after the fire department arrives.

Costume judging begins at 3:30 p.m., with costumes judged by age group (3-5, 6-8, 9-11). Farmer Fred will be selling pumpkins. Viola the Swamp Witch will be back this year. The Witches Kitchen will be selling hotdogs, soda pop, chili, popcorn, taffy apples and cookies made by Lovin' Oven. Kids will enjoy the moonwalk from 3-7 p.m. and face painting from 4:30-7:30 p.m.

Hay rides will be offered at McDonald's Woods (off Grass Lake Road, west of Route 45, east of Waterford) from 3-6 p.m. The cost of the hay ride is one item of canned food for the Lake Villa Township Food Pantry.

Carve your best-ever pumpkin this season

A well carved pumpkin will impress friends, neighbors and best of all, the trick-or-treaters!

Select a pumpkin that is ripe, has no bruises, cuts or nicks. Do not carry a pumpkin by its stem; it may break, and do not bruise it as it will not last as long. For easy cleanup, place your pumpkin on several layers of newspaper before carving. Kids: have a parent or other adult cut a circle around the stem of the pumpkin for you. They should use a sharp knife with long, sturdy blade for best and safest results. Or, you can do it yourself with a safer, plastic "pumpkin carving" knife available at many supermarkets during the pumpkin season. Parents: knives are very sharp, so make sure that the proper supervision is maintained when the children carve their pumpkins.

Make sure the hole is large enough to reach in and pull out the seeds and stringy membrane. The bottom of the pumpkin could also be cut off instead, this will allow the pumpkin to sit up straight and make removing the seeds easier. When cleaning out the pumpkin, use an old soup ladle to get out the seeds. Try carving a giant pumpkin, it is easier to carve than a regular pumpkin.

Examine your pumpkin to determine the best place to carve his or her face. Draw an outline of a face on a plain sheet of white paper (use simple bold features). Or visit the website listed below and download their examples. Tape your paper to the pumpkin where you want the face to be. Score the design onto the pumpkin by punching through the paper into the pumpkin with a large nail or pin.

Carefully cut out the design following the holes that were "punched" with your plastic knife. When you are finished cutting, simply push out the pieces to view the final results. Now you're all set to light up your home on Halloween night!

Local ski club ready for a great season

ecreational skiers in Lake County and beyond will find congenial company and opportunities for great ski excursions with the Snowseekers Ski Club.

"Since 1964, the Snowseekers have been welcoming skiers of all ages and abilities," says club president Evelyn Adams of Grayslake. "Our membership includes families, couples, singles — downhill skiers, cross-country skiers and snowboarders."

The Club organizes several multi-day ski excursions each winter, with a view to providing great skiing and fine accommodations at a reasonable cost.

During Winter 2004, the Snowseekers Ski Club will go on four seven-night trips to the American west: Big Mountain, Montana, Steamboat Springs, Colorado, and Aspen, Colorado (two trips). The Aspen trips coincide with spring break in many school districts. All trips include airfare, ground transportation, condo accommodation and lift tickets.

"Our warm-up jaunt will be a January 10-11, 2004, a trip to Devil's Head, Wisconsin," notes Adams. "A second weekend trip to Devil's Head and Granite Peak, Wisconsin, is planned for February 6-8."

The club organizes a variety of off-season activities, including an annual "Avalanche Party" in the spring, and an annual picnic during the summer.

Snowseekers Ski Club meets monthly, September through April, always on a Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, Douglas and Maple Avenues, Libertyville. The meeting dates for the rest of the 2003-2004 seasons are: Nov. 6, Dec. 4, Jan. 8, Feb. 12, Mar.

11 and April 15.

For more information, call Evelyn Adams at 847-223-5265. For details of the 2004 West and Midwest trips, call trip coordinator Stu Howes at 847-680-3211.
